Flipside

Tiger's Lair
Snyder High School
Snyder, Texas 79549
1981-82
Volume 46

James Caldwell is escorted by senior Kathy Northcott #44 during the powder puff pep ralley for the powder puff football game. Caldwell represented the Junior class, although she (he) was not elected Queen.

As a song records the feeling of the artist, so does the yearbook record the memories of the students. Memories are happy, successful and meaningful; but there's also the "flipside."

Flipside

Everyday we hear a song of wasted life, of a fellow man, with days full of strife
all because he didn't know where he wanted to be, that's the flipside of a life full of joy and ease.

For every song of sadness there are two full of joy.
We took a chance, and did our best; we didn't wait for someone else to tell us what to do, we gave it our all, and now we're on the topside.

Taking a look back at all our years we see what put us where we are. The time when we just didn't care what anyone thought was only a state of mind. We really wanted to care, and express ourselves so that we wouldn't end up on the underside.

Chorus: Songs of sadness or of joy,
that's the way it goes.
Life of strife, life of ease
we went for the topside, teetering always on, the flipside.

When You Come Through

Every time you give your all
That's when you succeed
Trying just a little harder
That is when you come through.

When the time comes for you to see
Just what your working for
That's when you'll be proud
That's when you come through

When you look at all you've accomplished
That's when you realize it's been worth it.
Because you really did your best that's what counts.
That's when you come through

Whenever you do your best, everyone is proud
But when it gets you what you want
That's when you come through.

Assembly interrupted

Awards and honors were presented May 11, for the top students of Snyder High School. The annual assembly, which had an unexpected intermission because of a tornado warning, saw Brad Robertson and Valeta Wheeler named as valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively. The event also saw the seniors move out and the juniors take their places.

Taking the band's AF Clark award was Andy Sealy. All-State and All-Area band and orchestra members were also recognized.

Connie Essery was the recipient of choir's Randy Bearden award while Robyn Harlin received a certificate for acheiving first alternate in the All-State choir.

Range and pasture team members who placed fifth in nation for the Future Farmers of America were given certificates. Members of this team included Riley Kitchens, Danny Proctor, and Roy Thompson.

French students honored were Guy Staton in first year and Mary Ybarra in second year. State qualifiers in Industrial Arts were recognized while Allen Fox, Vance Williams and Guy Staton were honored for taking first place honors in state.

Cast and crew members of the state champion one act play were introduced, and Jack O'Banion took the outstanding speech and drama student award.

Taking Journalists of the year were Co-Editors Theresa Browning and Pat Martinez while Mindy Aldridge took the same award in newspaper.

Camilla Crawford took a certificate for being outstanding in Future Homemakers of America.

Stand Your Ground

Just because you don't always win,
Don't ever let it keep you from tryin'.
'Cause when your down you got to fight,
You've got to stand your ground.

Some you win and some you lose,
But give your all to win.
Take pride in your team and in your school
It's for them you stand your ground.

When you feel you don't have a prayer,
That's when you've got to fight a little harder.
Just fight to stand your ground.

Stand your ground
Don't ever let nobody put you down.

Stand Your Ground

John Wilson and Brenda Anderson

Snyder High School female and male athletes of the year, 1981-82, were seniors John Wilson and Brenda Anderson.

Brenda plays Girls Varsity Basketball, and is in track. She went to the state track meet in Austin this year for the third time in the past four years. She placed fifth in the shot put at the finals this year.

John Wilson plays basketball and baseball. He received an award for the most valuable player in baseball this year. he received the best defensive player in basketball, too.

Other students receiving honors in the banquet were Shana Koonsman and Toni Elrod Gafford for being the players of the year in volleyball.

Riley Kitchens was presented the most improved player of the year in basketball.

Tonya Mitchell received the Most Improved Player of the year in Girls Basketball.

Coach Jan Kruse presented Lisa Franklin the Girls Golf Medalist.

Mackey Greene gave Paul Erwin the male medalist in golf.

Charles Crane presented Kelly Scott and Chris Wiman the Outstanding Award in Tennis.

Coach Crawford presented Glen Parham the Trackster Award.

Patty Grimmett gave Andrina Kitchens the Most Improved Trackster Award in Girls Track.

Coach Albert Lewis presented John Wilson and Jesse Hernandez the most valuable players award in baseball.

Raymond Jeffery was named the most valuable player in football. A special award was presentd to Mr. Marshall Spence for being Snyder High School fan of the year.

One of the most emotional moments in the sports banquet was a tribute to Coach Joyce Elrod. Coach Patti Girmmett made the tribute to Elrod for her outstanding job of coaching the volleyball girls and for Elrod's successes in her career as a coach at Snyder.

Elrod has resigned after amassing a 263-62 win-loss record and three state championships (including this year in Snyder.)

"All of the girls will miss Elrod as well as the faculty," said Grimmett.

Miss Hargrove was new sponsor for the cheerleaders this year.

"The girls have done a good job on their cheers," said Hargrove.

"She has been a great help and has really supported the varsity cheerleaders. The squad really likes her taking them to the out of town football games," said varsity cheerleader Aimee Williams.

Burnell Hargrove

Belinda Loveall

Loveall ineligible; Lopez in Ruled ineligible for a short time during the year, Belinda Loveall had to give up her spot to Vera Lopez. "I was disappointed when I found out I was alternate, but then I got a chance to cheer after all," said Vera Lopez. "When I went out of cheerleading, I felt terrible. I didn't want to go out because I really liked cheering alot," said Belinda Loveall. When Vera found out she was going to get to cheer she said that she felt great, but nervous because she felt like she had forgotten everything she knew. "On the other hand, I was really excited and couldn't wait to start," said Lopez. Loveall added that she knew she did not have any right to feel bad toward Vera because she was just doing her job as the alternate cheerleader.

Belinda Loveall

After being able to return for the second half of basketball season, Loveall said she felt great and was also looking forward to finishing up basketball season since it was what she was looking forward to the most.

Lopez said, "I was sad to leave because just the short time I was cheering I had a great time. I was glad, however, to hear that Belinda was feeling better and was able to come back. At least I was able to cheer for a while. Most alternates don't get the chance."

Eubanks gets chance

Tracey Davis, Mary Eubank, Stacie Sellars, Rachel Romero, Melissa Garcia

Freshman cheerleaders cheered to a football season of 12-1.

After the football season was over, Darla Goldsmith moved and alternate Mary Eubank took her place.

"I miss being a cheerleader but I had fun while it lasted," said Darla.

Eubank said that she was afraid she would feel left out being the alternate, but she said she wasn't.

"The girls were great. I was very frightened at first because I didn't know all the cheers, but I tried my best and that's all that counts."

CHALLENGE TO A CHAMPION

You know the things you had to do
To reach the mountain's peak:
You know the price you had to pay
For the goal which you did seek.

You know the sacrifice you make,
The hours you had to spend;
And you also knew the glory,
The pride at season's end.

But despite the work, the sweat, the pain,
When all is said and done,
It's a simple thing to reach the top —
To become a "number one."

The challenge to a Champion
Is to reach within the soul,
And find the courage and the will
To repeat that winning role.

To stand e'en taller than before,
To grow e'en more each day;
It's a simple thing to reach the top.
The Challenge is to stay.

Tigers take district crown in play-off

The Tigers captured the district crown by defeating Monahans in a play-off game 15-13, 15-2. "After defeating Monahans we knew we could achieve our goal because they were the team we had to beat," stated Toni Elrod.

Sabrina dinks against Monahans player Helen Washington while Sherri watches. Coach Elrod, Sherri, Shana, Toni, and Kathy flip for the serve against Monahans. The team huddles after a Tiger point. Becky and Kathy soft block against Monahans while Sherri backs them up.

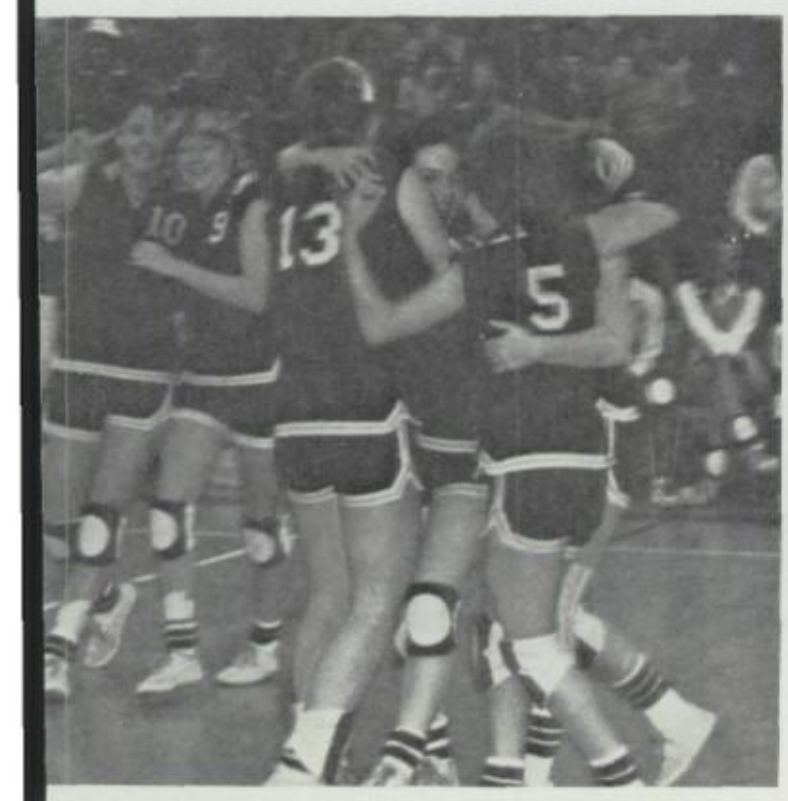
Hooters, tweeters overcome Everman to win regionals

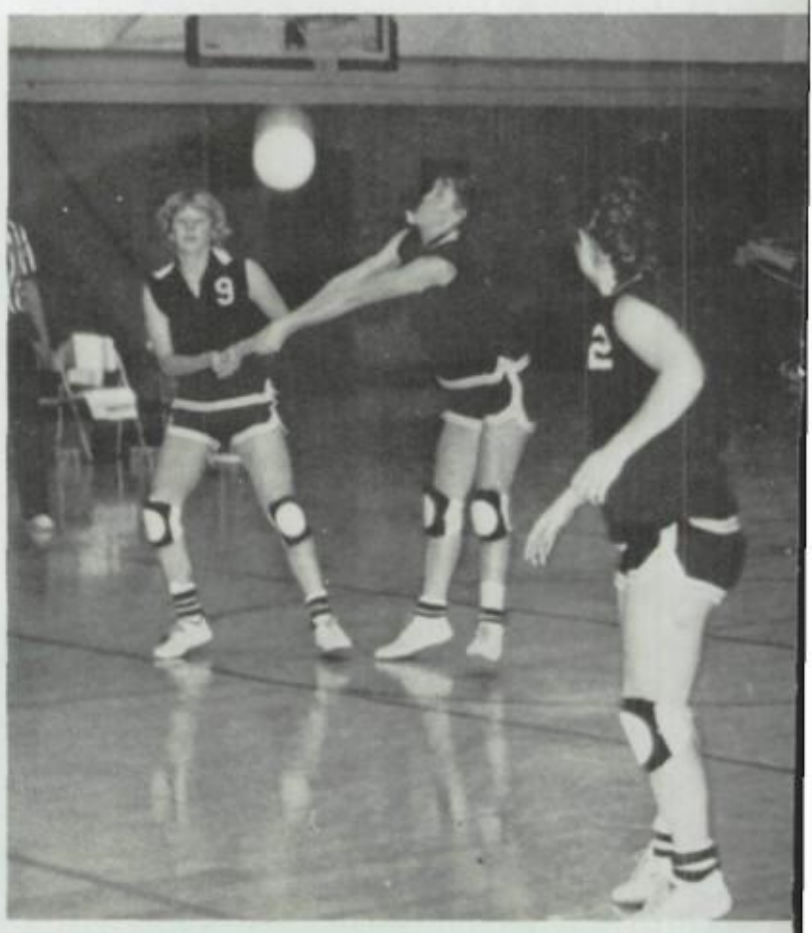


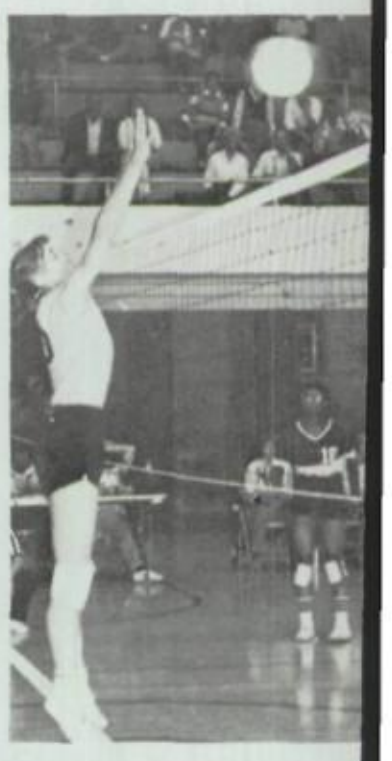
At Regionals, the Volleyball team defeated Borger in two games 15-8, 15-4. For the final game, Snyder made a big rally to come back from a 7-14 deficit to take the championship over Everman 17-15.

Top: Sherri kills the ball through two Everman blockers, Kathy Brannon and Kim Ethridge. The team talks over their strategy for the final game. Shana receives a hard serve while Becky backs her up. Sabrina passes the ball as Sherri and Shana watch. The team congratulate each other for a super job of winning the trip to Austin for the second time in a row.

We have a goal

two in a row





"Since the four Seniors had been there before, we weren't as nervous as last year. Although I was slightly tense, I knew we would step on the floor of Gregory Gym and take our second State Championship in a row," stated Shana Koonsman.

In State Competition, Tigers faced Waxahachie in first round action and defeated them 15-10, 11-15, 15-6. Overpowering San Antonio 15-8, 15-5, Tigers captured the State Championship for the second year in a row. Making the All-State Tournament Team was Becky Harrell, Toni Elrod, and Sabrina Robinson.

"Experience payed off for us because when pressure was put on us, it made us fight that much harder. We knew that no one was capable of taking our goal away from us," said Sherri Rich.

Opposite page: Sherri Rich symbolizes a "V" for victory. Becky picks up a hard spike while Shana and Kathy watch. Shana receives a serve while the team looks on. The 1981 season saw the end of 2 long-standing records for the Snyder Volleyball team. A heart-breaking loss to San Angelo Central in the finals of the Snyder Tourney ended a home-game winning streak of 58, a record that dated back to 1976. A loss to Monahans in district play ended a district game winning streak of 55, also dating back to 1976. However, nothing dampened the team's spirits as they became even more determined than ever to prove that they could and would be champions. Four seniors and five juniors fought to second place finishings in three of the larger varsity tournaments in West Texas, each time losing to a 5A team. The Tigers finished regular season play with a 15-1 district record, winning the first half. The loss to Monahans in the 2nd half created a play-off situation in Andrews. The match was no contest as Snyder held the momentum from a 15-13 victory in the first game to take Monahans 15-2 in the second and match game. They did not lose another game as both Borger and Everman fell to the Tigers at Regionals and Waxahachie and South San Antonio West at State. Snyder became the state 4A Champs for the second straight year and ended the season with a record of 34-5.

"The JV never had a district championship to shoot for, so it is always hard without a specific season goal to get up for every game. But these girls set their own personal goals and surprised everyone by winning 22 of 29 ball games," stated Coach Joyce Elrod.

The JV competed in three tournaments: the Snyder Varsity, Snyder Junior Varsity, and Seminole.

In the Snyder Varsity, they were defeated by Lamesa Varsity 7-15, 6-15, then they faced Cleburne Varsity, falling to them in two games 9-15, 13-15.

Placing second in their own tourney, Snyder defeated Midland 15-2, 8-15, 15-6, Lamesa 15-2, 15-6, Seminole 12-8, 13-4, and then lost to Monahans 13-15, 10-15.

Defeating Pecos 5-14, 15-10, 13-11, Lamesa 15-1, 15-5, and Big Spring 15-0, 15-6, Snyder captured the first place trophy in Seminole.

The freshmen ended their season with a record of 16 wins and 3 losses. They competed in 2 tournaments, the Snyder and Big Spring.

In the Snyder tournament they placed second by being defeated by Lamesa 5-15, 4-15. In the Big Spring tournament they placed fourth.

"In the Snyder tournament we were fired up and played together against Denver City and Seminole, but against Lamesa we just couldn't get back up to a good start," said Shana Hart.

Varsity football members take top honors in class 2-4A

A second year losing jinx struck the Snyder Tiger football team this season. The team ended the season with a 1-9 record.

Tiger backup quarterback, Darryl Boone, said, "As a graduating senior, the season was exciting, but it was a let down. I was expecting a better season."

Head Coach George Byerly said, "For the season, we should have played a little better and gone a little further."

As a team the Tigers rolled in 1,271 yards rushing. In the passing department, the team torpedoed 763 yards. Total Tiger offense rounded up 2,034 yards. They averaged 226.0 yards per game.

Individual statistics include Raymond "Bean" Jeffery who stacked up 806 total yards offensively with 174 carries. Jeffery averaged 4.6 yards per carry. Jeffery was also leading scorer with seven touchdowns.

Top passers for the Tigers were Brent Beck and David Nicholson. Beck completed 36 out of 86 passing attempts for 552 yards, three touchdowns and nine interceptions.

Nicholson threw 11 completions for 29 passing attempts, gathering 209 yards, one touchdown and one interception.

Top receivers for the Tigers were Glen Parham and Curtis Gafford. Parham had 13 catches for 292 yards and an average of 22.5 yards a carry. He was unable to score in the season. Gafford had nine catches for 119 yards. He scored twice and had an average of 13.2 per carry.

Tiger punters were Chad Peterson and Beck. Peterson had 22 punts for 645 yards and an average of 29.3 yards a punt. Beck had 13 punts for 422 yards and an average of 32.5 yards a punt.

For some of the players, next year's season has already begun, with the offseason program.

Tiger coaches said they were preparing for next year by "analyzing what we did this year and improve whatever needs improving."

JV adds muscle to varsity

Due to the lack of players, the Junior Varsity football team only competed twice. They played Big Spring and Andrews before it was decided by the coaches to move all JV up to the varsity level.

Shipp leads Frosh sensation

"The ninth grade had a very good year. The players came a long way from August to November. They have a lot to look forward to the next three years and Snyder will be very proud of this team," said Coach Winfred Shipp.

The "A" team finished out of the year 7-1. They were led in rushing by Paul Thompson who carried the ball 151 times for 777 yards and 12 touchdowns. Abey Munoz led the Tigers in receiving with nearly 400 yards. Jimmy Cain and Charles Bollinger combined for over 500 yards passing. "We started out slow because we lost to Andrews but then we won 6 games straight," said Charles Bollinger. The team scored a total of 277 points and allowed only 34 points.

"Our defense was strong this year but our offense was stronger and more balanced with a strong passing game and a strong running game," said Paul Thompson.

The "B" team was 5-0 and unscored on. They were led in rushing by Kenneth Gill and Eddie Ramos. Bobby Velasquez led in Passing and James "Gomer" Powell led in receiving. "I think our season went very well and our offense really stood out," said Tiger guard Keith Bryan.

'Let's Win' never wore thin

"We didn't accomplish all we wanted, but it would have to be determined a successful season because of our record," said first year head coach Larry Scott.

The Tigers did not win district, but they did finish with an overall record of 23-7. The Tigers were 11-4 in district, beating every team in the district at least once except Lamesa.

The Tigers also handed Andrews, ranked number one in state and district champions, one of only two losses on the season after the district championship.

James Caldwell led the Tigers in field goals (148), total rebounds (270), and steals (44). He also averaged 11.5 points in 30 games.

DW Lofton led the Tigers in quarters played (119) and had a 10.8 average in 30 games.

Riley Kitchens, who was hurt during much of the second half of district, was the only other Tiger to average in double figures with a 10.0 average in 24 games. Kitchens also led the team in free throws (71) and free throw percentages (74.7). Curtis Gafford, who played with a shoulder injury all season, led the cats in assists with 143.

Team members for the year are Clif Payne, manager; David R. Rios, (12), Brad Robertson (10), Curtis Gafford (52), DW Lofton (40), Riley Kitchens (42), James Caldwell (30), Quent Gilbert (34), John Wilson (14), Keith Wallace (24), Mark Shaw (50), Randy Burus (22) and Derwin Price, manager.

Tigers foul out

When the Tigers went to Mustang land it was a long night.

The Tigers got into foul trouble quickly. "We got in foul trouble and that enabled us to do some of the things we usually did, it allowed them to out rebound us," said coach Larry Scott.

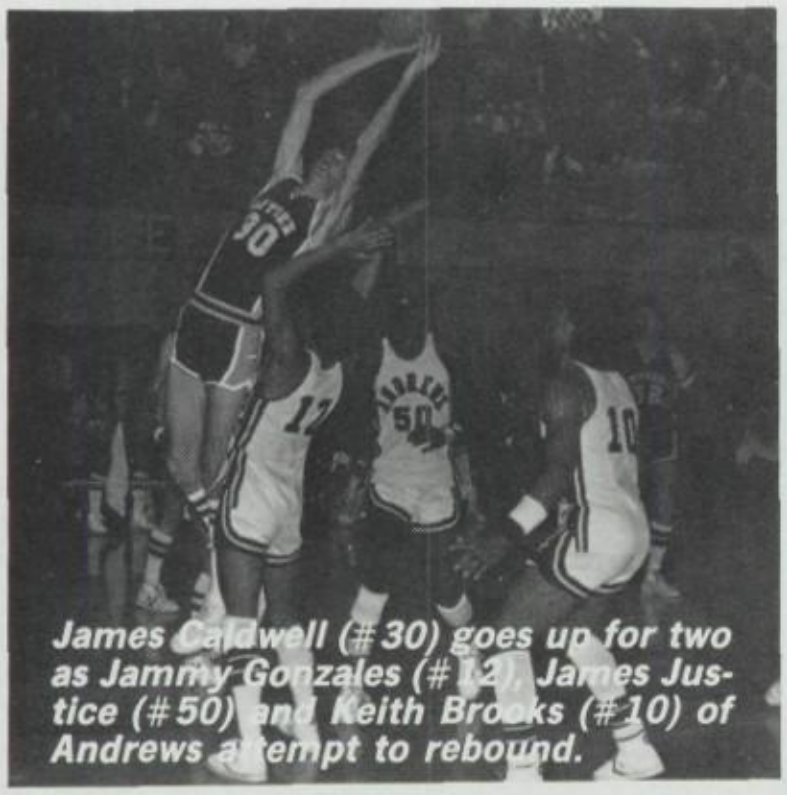
Coach Frank Brice, head basketball coach from Andrews felt that if the Tigers had not gotten into foul trouble they would have trouble matching up with size. Again, the Tiger Coach agreed, "It kept us from doing things we normally did do."

"We were trying to go inside and either score or get fouled," said Andrews coach Frank Brice.

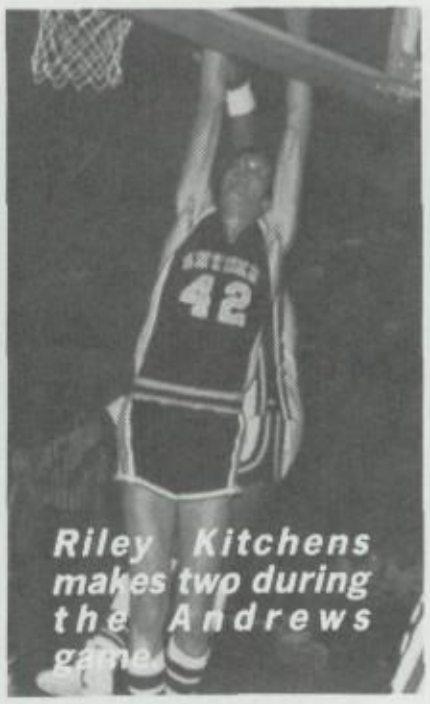
The first quarter ended in a 11-11 tie, but the 'Stangs out scored the Tigers in the both second and third quarters 14-13 and 20-12. The Tigers made a run at Andrews in the fourth quarter outscoring them 24-21 but without the service of James Caldwell and D.W. Lofton who both had fouled out in the third quarter. The final score was 60-71. The win gave Andrews the first half District Championship.

Riley Kitchens goes up for a lay-up against the Andrews Mustangs. The Tigers were defeated 60-71 to give the 'Stangs the first half District Championship.

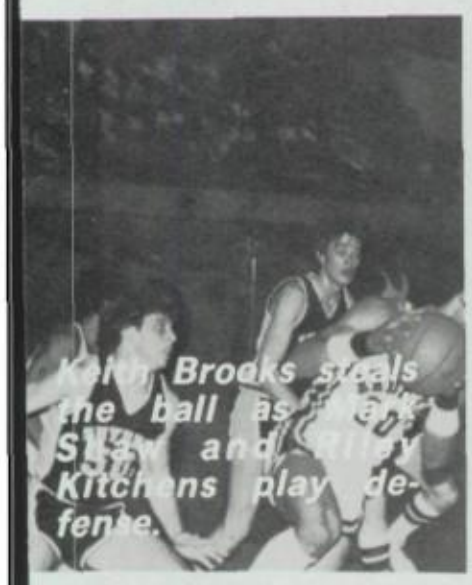
'Stangs upset



James Caldwell (#30) goes up for two as Jammy Gonzales (#12), James Justice (#50) and Keith Brooks (#10) of Andrews attempt to rebound.

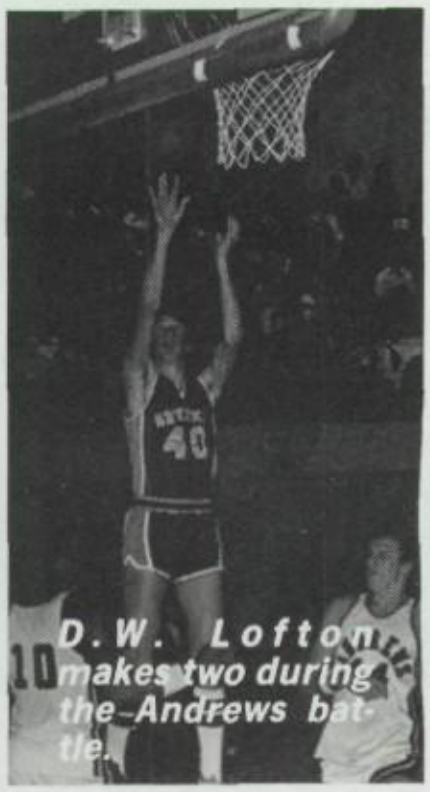


Riley Kitchens makes two during the Andrews game.

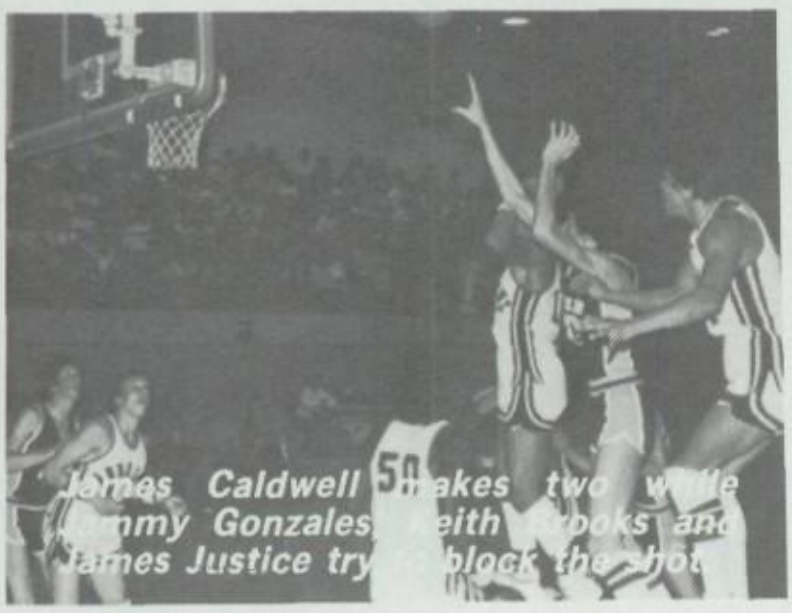


Keith Brooks steals the ball as [illegible] Stacy and Riley Kitchens play defense.

D.W. Lofton shoots for two.



D.W. Lofton makes two during the Andrews battle.



James Caldwell [illegible] makes two while Jammy Gonzales, Keith Brooks and James Justice try to block the shot.

"We changed defense to a different type of zone. We slowed the game down for the first 5 minutes. Andrews missed several easy inside shots. We rebounded well, giving them usually one shot in the first quarter," said Coach Larry Scott.

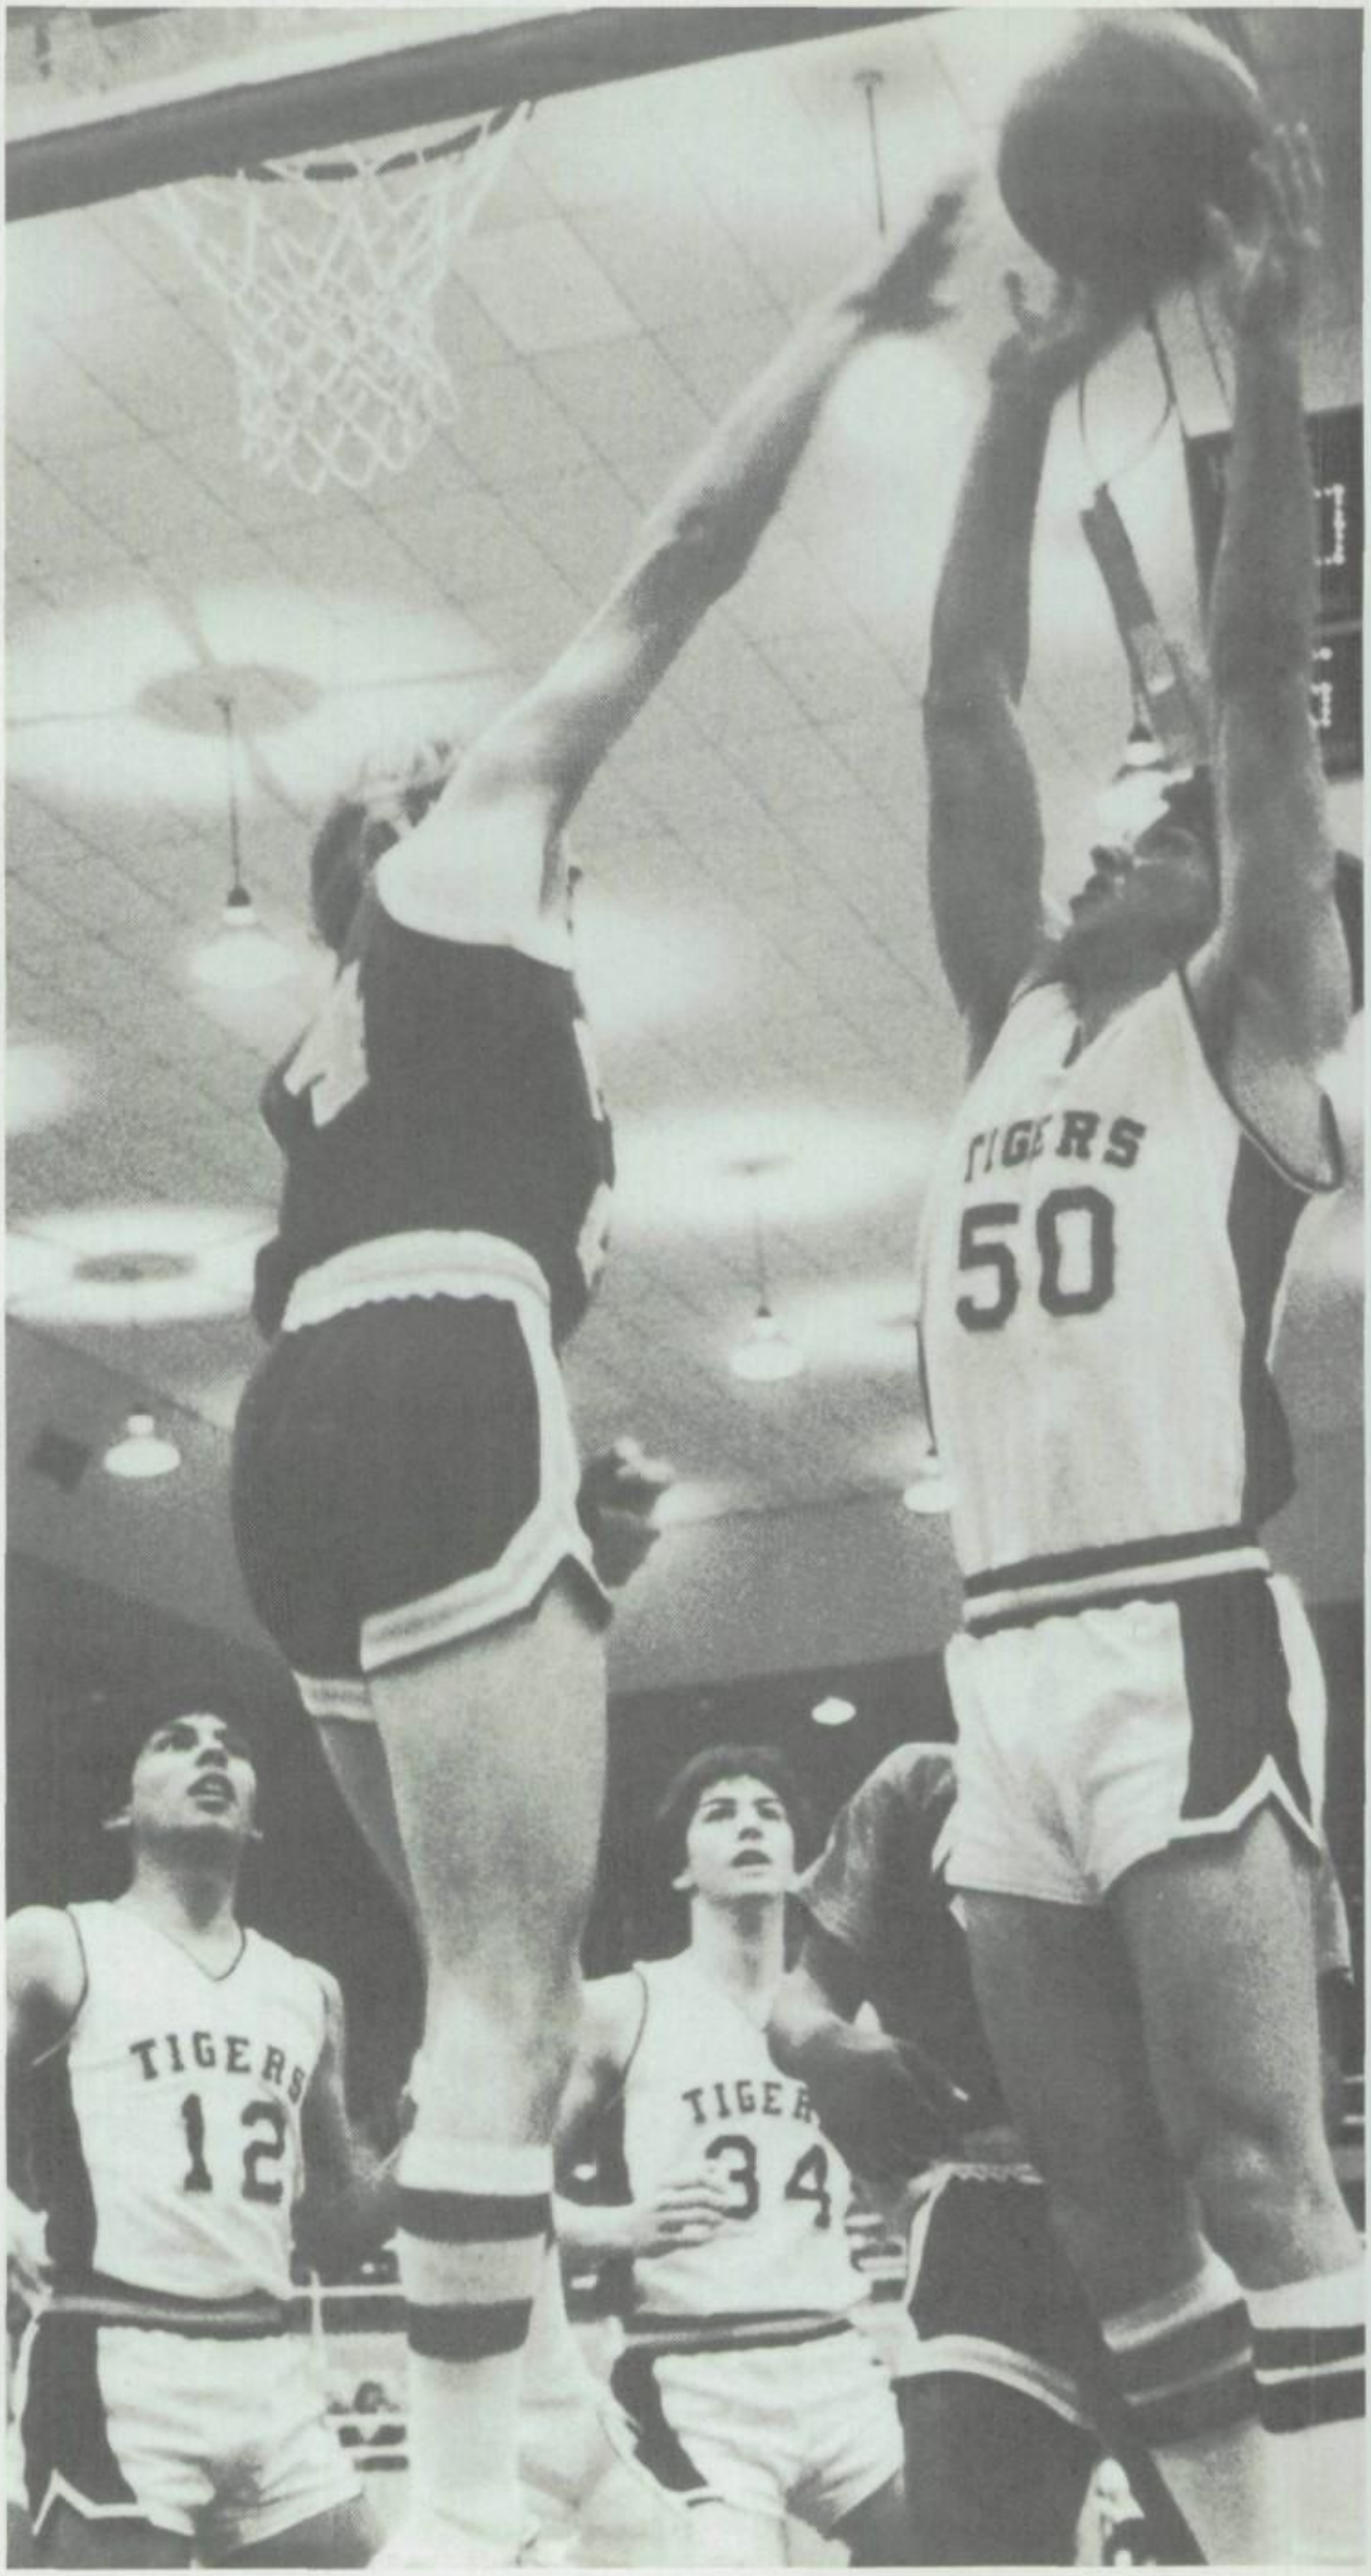
Andrews got behind fast and started reaching and grabbing for the ball. Mike Murry had three fouls in the first quarter, one of the Andrews starters. Then it was a one and one situation. The score for the first quarter was 15-0. Andrews did not score until the second quarter when the score was 16-0.

The Tigers made them play their game. The half time score was 24-10. Andrews continued to press the whole game which got the team in foul trouble.

The fourth quarter, Andrews had success in getting the ball to Keith Brooks as he scored 19 points for the Andrews Mustangs.

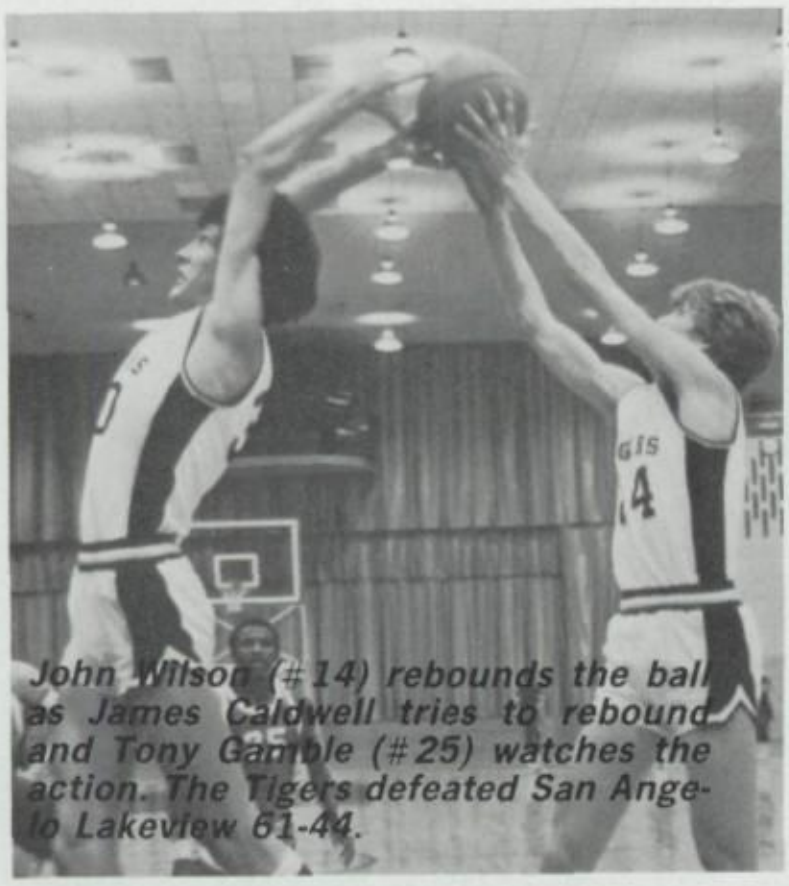
The Tigers defeated Andrews with the score of 53-49. The win to the Tigers knocked the #1 state ranked team at the end of district competition.

The Mustangs advanced to the State Tournament but were defeated in the semi-finals by Waxahachie.



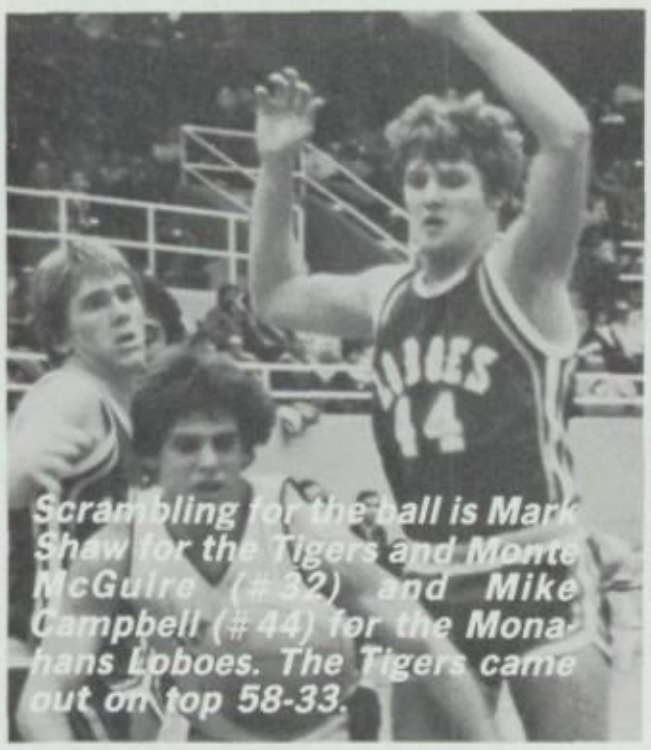
Mark Shaw shoots for two while his opponent tries to block his shot. David Rios (#12) and Quent Gilbert (#34) watch the action. The Tigers were defeated by the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes in this game by a score of 39-47. The Tors were the only team in district play to defeat the Tigers twice.

Ankle ends Kitchen's season

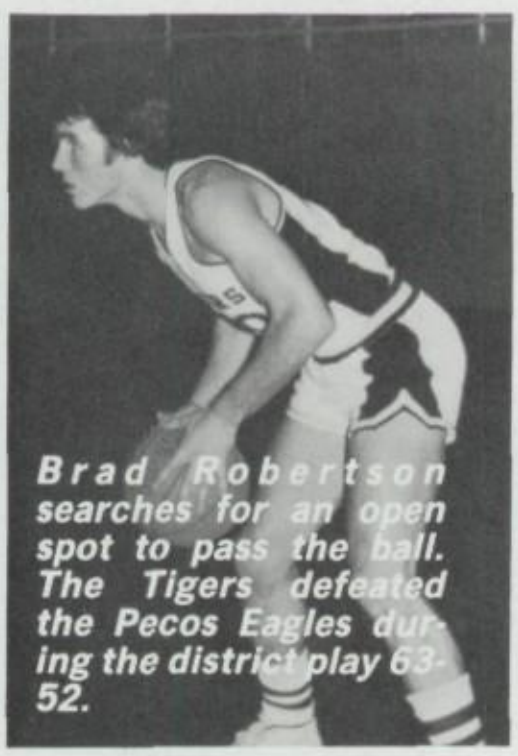


John Wilson (#14) rebounds the ball as James Caldwell tries to rebound and Tony Gamble (#25) watches the action. The Tigers defeated San Angelo Lakeview 61-44.

Keith Wallace flies over the Lamesa Golden Tornados. Wallace added two on the scoreboard, but the Tigers were defeated 39-47.



Scrambling for the ball is Mark Shaw for the Tigers and Monte McGuire (#32) and Mike Campbell (#44) for the Monahans Loboes. The Tigers came out on top 58-33.



Brad Robertson searches for an open spot to pass the ball. The Tigers defeated the Pecos Eagles during the district play 63-52.

The worst thing that can happen to an athlete is to get hurt in the middle of the season and have to sit and watch his team play the rest of the season without him. Riley Kitchens knows this as well as anyone.

The six foot, six inch senior broke a bone in his leg while playing a game against Odessa Ector. Kitchens was out for the rest of the season. "I went up for a rebound and when I came down on somebody's foot I turned my ankle," said Kitchens.

The doctor told him the day after it happened that his ankle was badly sprained, but it kept bothering Kitchens.

At the time of his injury, Kitchens was averaging close to 10 points and 6 rebounds a game. He cited a game with Lubbock Estacado as his best of the season. Kitchens scored 26 points in the game and sunk a free throw with no time on the clock to give the Tigers a victory in double overtime. The final score was 55-54.

John Wilson gets inside for two as Cathery (#23) from Abilene Cooper attempts to block the shot. DW Lofton and David Rios (behind Wilson) watch the action. The final score was 56-43.

John Wilson shoots for two but is blocked by Steve Alexander (#41) from Lamesa. Lamesa came out on top with the score of 39-47 during the home district game.

JV winds up season 13-11

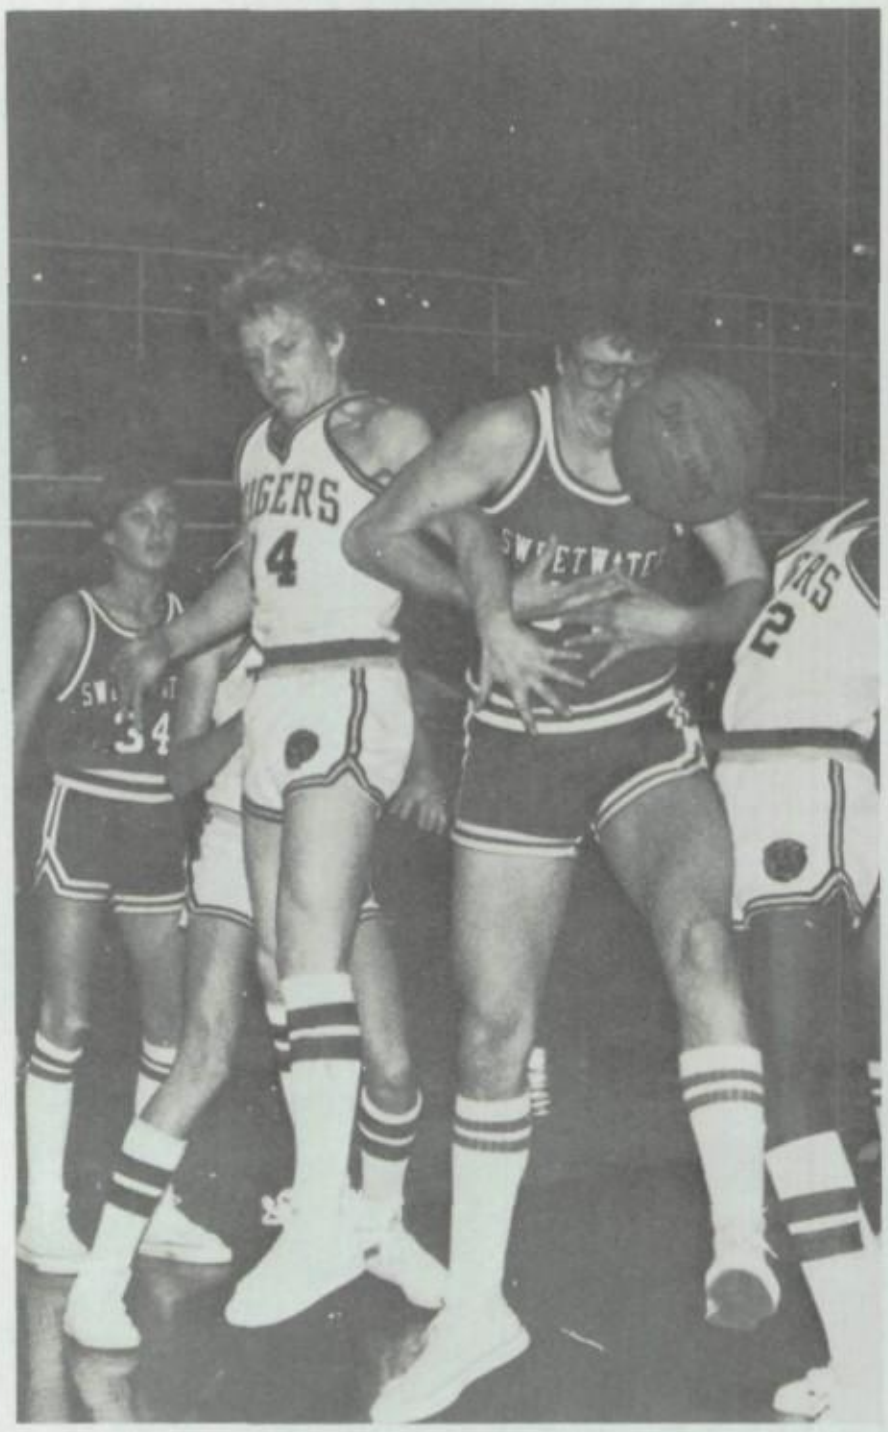
The Junior Varsity faced the Andrew Mustangs February 16 and lost by a score of 44-49.

After dropping Andrews, the JV bounced back against Monahans and slammed the Loboes, 52-49.

Monahans was the last game on the JV's list, and they finished the year with a 13-11 record. Don Johnson led the JV with 265 points, and Whit Parks had 243 points.

Junior Varsity player Don Johnson said, "The season wasn't as good as I expected or hoped it would be because we lost more than I thought we should."

Chad Peterson goes up for the rebound but is fouled by Elder (No. 54) while Parkhurst looks on. Team members are Norman Malone, Paul Tate, David Miller, Marcus McGlouthin, Whit Parks, Don Johnson, Trey McWilliams, and Chad Peterson.



Sophs end season 2-10

The sophomore basketball team ended its season with a 2-10 record.

Sophomore player Jerry Comstock, said, "We gained a lot of experience which should pay off when we are on Varsity."

The top two scorers for the season were John Murphy with 66 points and Fred Fleming with 57 points.

"My greatest strength in shooting was from the inside when I was closely covered," said John Murphy. "My greatest weakness was shooting from the outside," said John.

Fred Fleming said that the improvement of his shooting form was his greatest strength this year.

The girls did, however, win the Roosevelt tourney, and placed 4th in the Levelland tourney. Andrews sacked up an 8-0 district record to win the first half.

In the second half of district play, the ladies had a record of 4-3. "The team did not do as well as I thought they would do. We played 24 ballgames, and had a record of 11-13. We should have won at least 18 of the ballgames we played," commented Coach Housden.

Although the Junior Varsity had their ups and downs, the girls pulled through with a team record of 8-8.

The girls defeated both Pecos and Odessa Ector here and in their gyms. In the first half of district, the girls defeated Ector 27-39 and Pecos 33-45. In the second half of district, the girls defeated Ector 32-48 and Pecos 44-50.

The ability of the girls to play well under their opponent's goal proved to be an obvious advantage for them this season.

Team takes third in district

After falling to Fort Stockton, the tennis team took a record of 6-2. "It has been a disappointing year for us. We all thought we could do a lot better," said sophomore Chris Wiman, number one boy's single player.

To prepare for the district tournament, April 6 and 7 the Tiger Netters travelled to an Abilene tournament. They also competed in the San Angelo tournament the following weekend.

Coach Charlie Chrane said he felt several of his players should have qualified for regionals at the district tournament. "Several of our players had the potential to beat teams they had been beaten by during the district round robin. They had to play exceptionally well," said Chrane.

Team members are Lisa Thompson, Mindy Aldridge, Pam Smith, Terri Deaver, Shana Hart, Kelley Scott; Row 2, Chris Wiman, James Melott, Richard Derrick, Mark Cypert, Trey McWilliams, and Darren Jackson.

Both Kelley Scott and Chris Wiman placed second in singles at the District 2-4A tourney, April 8.

Scott was defeated in the finals by Micale Morgan of Monahans 6-4, 6-3. Wiman fell to Ft. Stockton's Gabriel Urias 7-5, 7-5 in the finals.

The boys doubles team Mark Cypert and Richard Derrick took third place behind Downing-Jasquez of Andrews.

Mindy Aldridge and Pam Smith garnered fourth place in the tourney. They played Johnson-Lawrence of Sweetwater for third place. Snyder defaulted after 5 — 7-5, 6-6.

Scott falls in semis

Kelley Scott took fourth place at the regional tournament played at Odessa College on April 23-24.

In the match played for third and fourth, Scott fell to Vernon's Beverly Triana 3-6, 2-6. "I never got my spirits up because I was so disappointed about losing in the semifinals," said Kelley.

Cleburn's Angie Risa beat Kelley 1-6, 2-6 in the semi-finals. Before that action took place, the fighting Tiger won 6-4, 6-1 over Jill Nielson from Borger. "Her playing was excellent in the first round, but as you advance, the competition gets tougher," said Chrane.

Wiman faces top contender

Chris Wiman was defeated in the first round of regional action by John Baker from Crowley 6-1, 6-1.

Wiman played as the boys number one singles player, and had an excellent season. He was proud of the way he played during his regional match. "I played the best I have ever played. John is just a great tennis player," said Chris.

Baker won first at regional and was a state finalist last year.

Injuries, storms

Golfer's season 'not what expected'

After ending up eighth in the class 24A golf standings, Coach Mackey Green said, "Too many injuries and too much bad weather," were the reasons for the team not doing as well as expected.

Even though golf is a non-contact sport, the years injuries were abundant. Jay Eiland was unable to play for two or three weeks because he was hit by a car.

Billy Ziske was sidelined by a wrist injury. Lance Leatherwood missed all the tournaments because of a broken leg. On whether or not the golf team can compete to a better degree next year Coach Mackey Green said, "We'll have five returning lettermen back and four will be seniors."

Although some key players were sidelined by injuries, there was a bright spot. It was Paul Erwin. Erwin took top honors at Andrews, although the team placed tenth overall. He also tied for first place honors at the Lubbock Tournament after the Andrews tournament. Coach Mackey Green said, "Paul finished first in the medalist race to be Snyder's highest man."

Golfers eighth in district

Coming off a fifth place finish at the final district tournament in Lamesa with a score of 357 were the Tiger golfers who finished eighth in overall district play.

Andrews, who won the Lamesa tournament with a 310, finished first in overall district play. Lamesa, who finished second in their own tournament placed second in district.

Girls place fifth in state

The girls golf team took fifth place in the Class 4A State Tournament held in Austin.

The girls, under the direction of Coach Kruse, shot a total 830. The individual shots for the two days were Theresa Hildreth 191, Lisa Franklin 193, Laurie Donelson 219, Tracey O'Day 227, and Diane Risenhoover with 279.

It was only the second year for a girls golf team.

Jasper captured the 4A team title with a score of 777, defeating Georgetown by 18 strokes. Brenham was third with 806. Lisa said, "I was unhappy about placing fifth, but it was exciting getting to that point." Theresa said, "I thought it was an honor going my last year."

Linksters swing 2-4A district

The girls golf team won the 2-4A district championship with 1598. Ft. Stockton came in second with 1601. Andrews and Lamesa came in third and fourth respectively. Snyder dominated the final medalist honors with three girls in the top five. Lisa Franklin is number one medalist followed by Theresa Hildreth with second honors and Laurie Donelson as number five. Ft. Stockton was 16 strokes ahead of the Cats going into the district tourney on April 5 in Andrews. The Tigers came out 3 ahead of the Panthers with low scores coming from Franklin and Hildreth. After her last hole at Andrews, Franklin was congratulated on being top medalist by Kruse. Franklin said, "I didn't expect it. I thought I had already gotten beat."

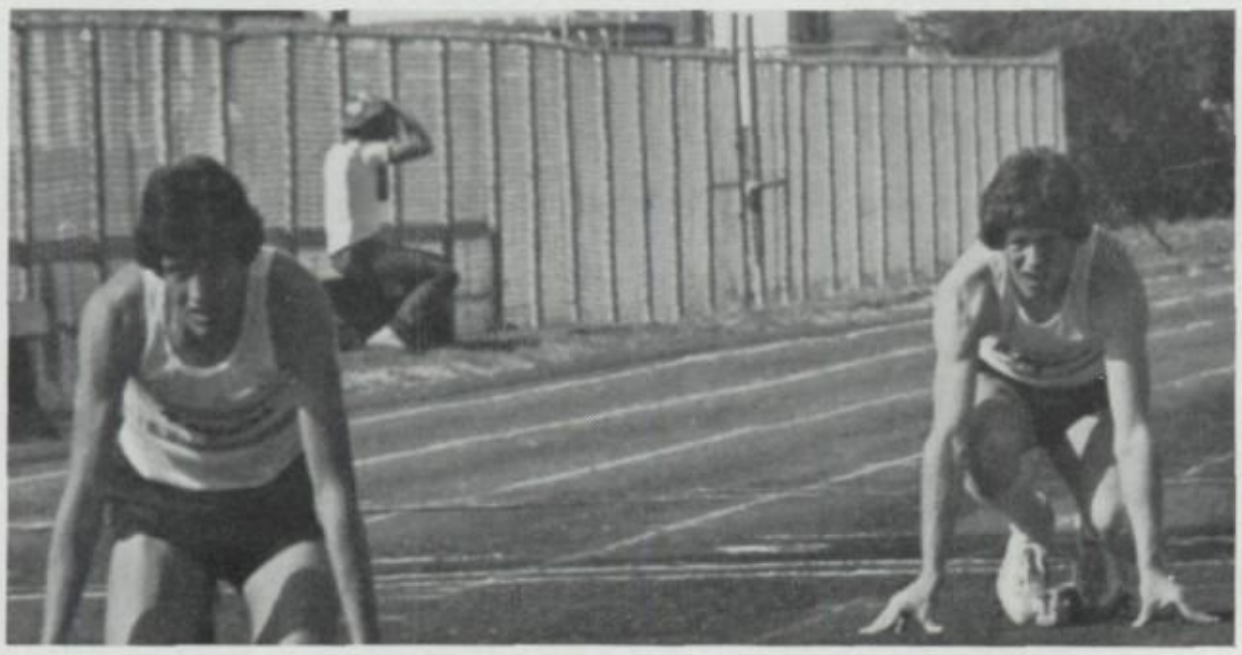
Senior pacers leave heat

D. W. Lofton is a one year member of the varsity track team. He competed in high jump, 3200 relay, and Distance Medley.

Quint Gilbert is a one year member of the varsity track team. He is involved in pole vault, 800 relay and the sprint medley.

Mark Shaw makes it across the finish line during the Canyon Reef Relays. Mark has been involved in track for 4 years. He runs in the sprint medley, 800 meter relay.

Lee Minyard clears an obstacle in the boys 110 meter hurdles in the Canyon Reef Relays. Snyder picked up 94 points for second in the track meet. They won three first place medals which helped them with points.



James Caldwell and David Miller get ready to run 400 finals in the Canyon Reef Relays.

James Caldwell goes for a long leap during his long event at the Canyon Reef Relays. James also competes in high jump, 1600 relay and 4x300 hurdles.

Shipp sets sail away

Winfred Shipp coached Snyder Varsity track for five years here, up until the coaching change recently. He was hired on as a ninth grade football coach. Then he moved up to junior varsity football coach and then took over the varsity track program.

Shipp produced two district championship teams in 1979 and 1980 and sent five different team members to the state meet, three of them twice. Coach Shipp's best year was probably in 1980 when Dale Jenkins and Bradley Richardson took first places in the pole vault and high jump, respectively. Thomas Selmon placed second in the long jump at state.

Shipp felt that it was time for him to move on and try something other than teaching. He is now a sales engineer for Champion Chemical.

"It wouldn't be honest to say that I don't miss something that I did so long. I enjoy my new job very much, and at the present time I have no plans to teach again. As for the football, sure I will miss football. Football has been my life for the past thirty years; track was only my second love," said Coach Shipp.

"I felt like I couldn't turn the opportunity down," said Shipp. During his years of coaching Shipp has had a lot of close relations with kids.

"I feel that I had a very good relationship with all of the students at Snyder and have enjoyed working with them," he said.

Glenn Parham advanced to regionals, competing in the long jump, intermediate hurdles and the 110 meter hurdles. He pulled a hamstring during the 110 highs and was out of competition.

Parham qualifies in three events

All hopes and dreams came to an end for Glenn Parham when regionals fell through in Odessa, May 8.

Parham jumped a 22'4" which is good but not good enough. According to Parham, he would have gotten to Austin, but everyone was jumping good that day.

In the 110 highs, Parham said, "I had a good start and was doing well until I pulled my hamstring. I was unable to finish the race and to compete in any event the rest of the day."

Robert Crawford, track coach, said, "Glenn Parham worked hard and is very determined. He did everything I asked of him."

Anderson, Townsel set pace

During her four years in track, Brenda Anderson has participated in shot put, discus, 400 meter relay, 800 meter relay and 100 meter run.

Coach Patti Grimmett said that Brenda Anderson's track career was very successful. "Brenda has worked hard these past three years that I have had her, and her accomplishments are proof of that," said Grimmett.

Coach Grimmett also said that Brenda is a friendly and out going person, who is dedicated to do whatever she is involved in and has a very positive attitude.

Senior Michelle Townsel participated in the 200 meter run, 400 meter relay and 800 meter relay.

Lewis coach of year

Coach of the Year Albert Lewis led his diamondmen, 24-5 through the regular season and 12-0 in district play, to the 2-4A district championship.

The Tigers placed six team members, including the Most Valuable Player, on the 2-4A All-District team.

John Wilson was selected MVP and was the league's leading pitcher with a 10-1 in regular season.

Receiving all-district honors for the second straight year were catcher Jesse Hernandez, outfielder Perry Echols, shortstop Brent Roemisch and first baseman Barry Davis.

Senior pitcher Tommy Gressett, 4-1 for the season and 3-0 in loop play, was Snyder's other first teamer.

Making honorable mention were designated hitter Britt Vincent and second baseman David Rios.

Mats sap state dreams

With four-hit pitching from junior Wayne Dotson, the Estacado Matadors won the bi-district opener 7-3 against the Snyder Tigers in Lubbock.

The Matadors broke a 3-3 tie in the third inning to win the game under controversey. With two outs and Rodney Wheeler working toward a two-two count in the fourth inning, Tiger pitcher John Wilson delivered his pitch right along Wheeler's midsection.

Umpire Robert Cameroon called it a ball, and Tiger Coaches Lewis and Roland Herrera stormed the plate. Cameroon ejected Herrera from the game and waved off Lewis' protests.

Lewis said that call took the wind out of the Tigers. "That call should have been the third strike, and we're out of the inning. It's still 4-3. He (the ump) blew it, that's all there is to it."

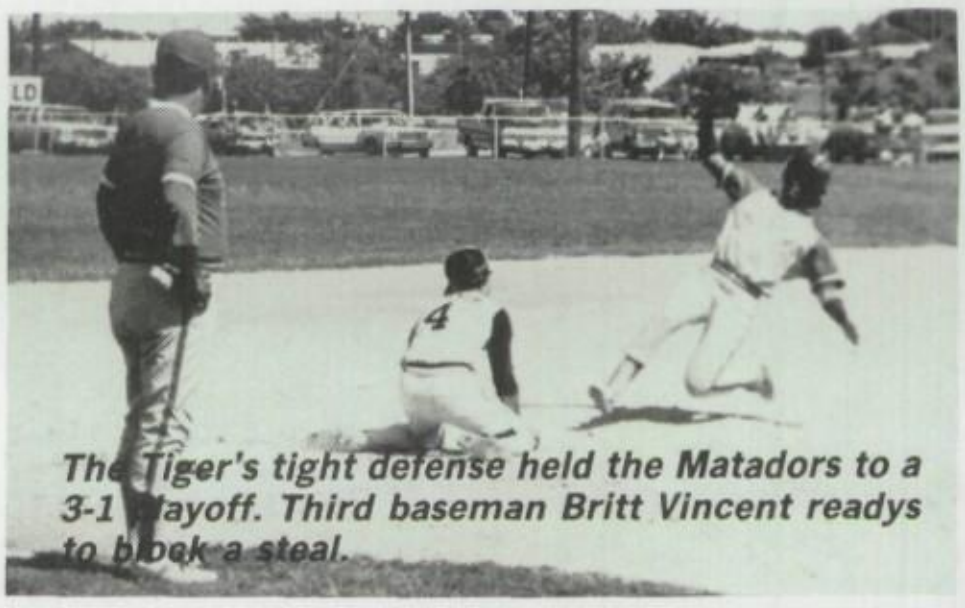
Wilson went on to take the loss giving up six hits and four walks over four innings.

In the second game, held at Moffett field, the Tigers simply couldn't get down the early bunt or the late RBI. Defensively, they fielded a near perfect game.

The tilt went eight innings with Escatado running the bases after 3-1 victory. "All we could ask to do was our best and those young men did that," said Lewis. "They have nothing to be ashamed of. I'm proud of all of them," he added.

Senior catcher Jesse Hernandez led Snyder offensively with three singles and two walks in two games. Brent Roemisch had two singles and a walk and Perry Echols turned in two RBI's, a double and a sacrifice.

Tigers congratulate Estacado Matadors after regional playoffs, 3-7, 1-3.



The Tiger's tight defense held the Matadors to a 3-1 playoff. Third baseman Britt Vincent readys to block a steal.

Men left on third due to missed RBI's hindered Tigers efforts for state. Jesse Hernandez fouls a bunt.

Tigers win first half

Snyder Tigers wrapped up the first half of 2-AAAA district play undefeated with a 6-0 district record. They downed Lamesa 11-1, Odessa Ector 4-0, Monahans 10-3, Ft. Stockton 12-1, Andrews 7-1, Pecos 3-1, to capture this title.

Starting for the Tigers were Brent Roemisch, shortstop, Barry Davis first base, Jesse Hernandez catcher, Curtis Gafford outfield and second base, David Rios second base, John Wilson third base and pitcher, Britt Vincent outfield, Casey Peterson outfield, Tommy Gressett, Charles Bollinger, and Gerald Don Hicks all pitched. They were coached by Coach Albert Lewis and Coach Herrera.

Casey Peter (#1) slides into home plate to score. John Wilson (#9) scores easily on a basehit. Perry Echols (#20) steps across home to raise the score.

Charles Bollinger waits for the pitch. Perry Echols swings for a homerun. Jesse Hernandez, John Wilson, Charles Bollinger, Barry Davis, and David Rios talk strategy. David Rios hits the ball for a base hit. John Wilson pitches for strikes.

Teammates congratulate Jesse Hernandez as he heads for home after hitting a 2-run homer against Pecos.

To appease Pecos's protest, Athletic Director John Gary confers with Umpire Woody Wood about the distance between home plate and the mound. Snyder won the game (6-2) and the district.

Pecos tries Tiger shakeup with mound shakedown

After a mound shakedown, the Snyder Tigers became the 2-4A district champs for the sixth straight year.

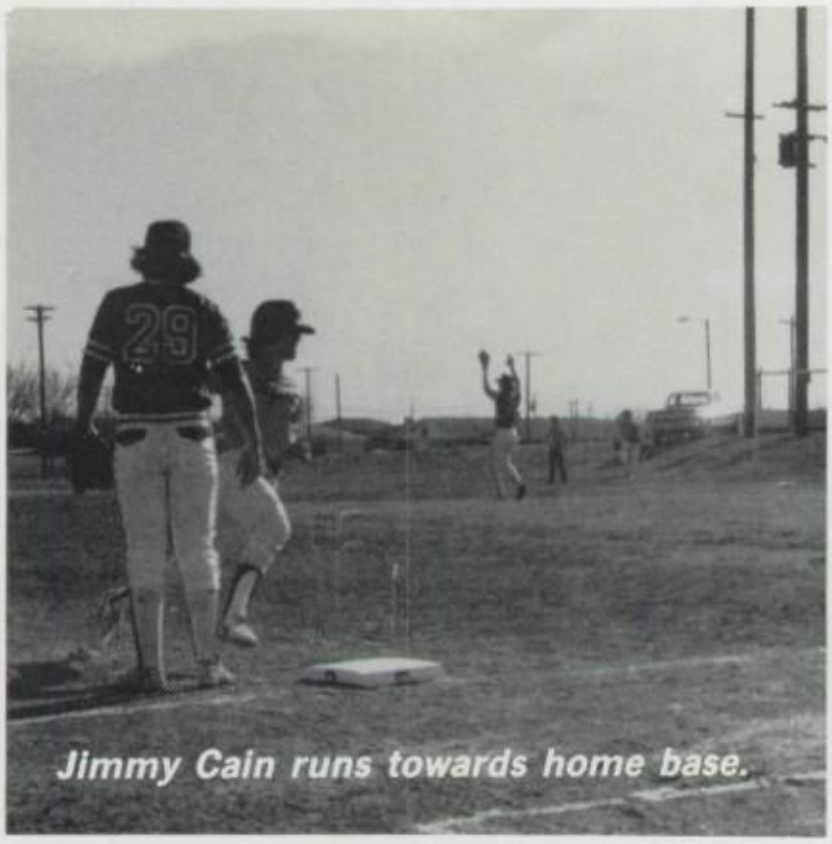
The Tigers beat out Pecos (6-2) who protested the game before its start. The distance between the mound and plate was not regulation.

After measuring, the mound was moved back a foot and an inch.

John Wilson was winning pitcher with seven strike outs. Snyder collected five hits with a two-run homer by Jesse Hernandez.

To conclude district play, the Tigers put Ft. Stockton away and won their sixteenth consecutive game bringing their regular season slate to 24-5.

Gerald Hicks, who releived Tommy Gressett in the top of the fourth, fanned three batters in the sixth and one the seventh inning to collect the mound victory. Gressett gave up three runs on eight hits and struck out eight.



Jimmy Cain runs towards home base.

Young team faces first defeat

The junior varsity team began its season against Abilene Cooper. Coach Lewis said, "The pressure might be tough because the team was young." The team was defeated the first round 13-1 and 3-2 in a second game. Team members are Drew Willis, William Cotton, Bobby Velasquez, Jimmy Cain, Tommy Hunter, Henry Alvarado, Thomas Quintella, Chad Peterson, Paul Tate, Jay Mayo, Daniel Salazar, Mike McCravey, Norman Malone, and Darren Fletcher.

Sickness changes line-up

"Walks are what won the game for us," said Coach Walkup after the team beat Big Springs 12-4. Daniel Salazar, Chad Peterson, Bobby Velasquez, and Henry Alvarado had two runs each. Thomas Quentela, Willie Greenhouse, Norman Malone, and Tommy Hunter all scored one run each. Abilene High defeated the Tigers 7-2. JV Coach Walkup said, "We had to make changes in our line-up because of injuries and sickness." Jay Mayo and Tommy Hunter were the only two to cross the plate for runs that game.

The Dallas Hoopsters are a group of the Dallas Cowboys who travel from town to town to play basketball.

When the Hoopsters ran onto the court, the crowd in the Scurry County Coliseum went bazerk. When the All-Stars ran onto the court, the crowd booed their local team.

The game started off with the Hoopsters scoring the first eight points. Among the Hoopsters were Benny Barnes, Butch Johnson, and Bruce Thorten.

Finally, at the conclusion of the game, the Hoopsters had beaten the All-Stars 64-58.

High point for the Hoopsters was Steve Wilson with 22 points. Tying for high point among the All-Stars were Coaches Larry Scott, Ken Housden, and Daren Lee with 8 points.

Students get physical for goals

Smelly shoes, sweaty shirts, and dirty shorts are not the only fruits of a PE class.

Physical Education is a development for physical fitness and exercise, to provide an opportunity for recreational activity, to introduce various leisure time activities, to allow an opportunity to work and play with other people.

"Any physical activity hopefully creates an awareness in the student of a need for keeping physically fit," said Joyce Elrod, coach and PE teacher. Elrod said that all of the sports such as badminton, tennis softball, table tennis, and volleyball are excellent recreational activities which can be played in one's leisure time, before and after graduation.

The team sports of volleyball and softball provide an opportunity for the student to work with others toward reaching common goals which is an aspect of life the student must face not only with holding jobs but with a family in the house, etc. "It's always better to be a participant in life than a mere spectator," said Elrod.

Joyce Elrod
Head coach

Tears filled the eyes of Coach Joyce Elrod's champions as she announced her resignation to the volleyballers April 29. Her husband Don accepted a job as minister at the first United Methodist Church in Perry, Texas, seventeen miles from Waco.

Elrod has coached for 19 years. Nine volleyball seasons at SHS have shown her remarkable ability as a coach. "The times I've spent with the players have probably been the best times I have ever experienced," said Elrod.

"Elrod, as a friend and coach, will be missed very much by those who have played for her. She builds up a confidence inside a player that can't be intruded upon by anyone or anything. She makes players want to win so badly that they look forward to the tough work outs, knowing they will better themselves," said JV player Wendy Hodge.

Becky Harrell, Sabrina Robinson and Lisa Loyola pooled together and said, "We hate to see Elrod go. She's like our second mother and it will be empty without her. We wish her the best of luck, and we want her to know that we love her."

NHS inducts new members

In a traditional candle lighting ceremony in November, new members were inducted into the National Honor Society.

Steve Gressett, president of NHS, served as master of ceremonies. "I felt it was a great privilege to be a member of the NHS and hope these inductees felt the same," said Gressett.

Jacqueline Pylant played the processional followed by an explanation of the significance of the organization by Principal Ray Courtney.

Four members of NHS explained the qualifications of NHS members. Kelley Scott spoke about character; Andy Sealy, scholarship; Bryan Limmer, leadership; and Robyn Harlin, service.

An added attraction this year, Jennifer Cole read from Helen Hayes' "White Magnolia." The selection concerns lifetime loyalty to high ideals. Jack O'Banion read from a "Letter from Will Rogers to Charlie Russell, the artist."

Stocky Roberts, vice-president of NHS, Valeta Wheeler, NHS secretary, and Tracey O"Day presented the new members. The ceremony was closed by a prayer.

Mr. Worsham said that Dracula was a classical play and well known. He made it very dramatic with sound effects and lighting.

In the play, "Senior John Wilson, who played Renfield, was really crazy. He caught bugs and ate them," said Mr. Worsham. Renfield was an interesting case," he said.

Mr. Worsham brought many acts together to make one script according to John Wilson.

Major roles in the play were: Mark Shaw, Jonathan Harker; (Dracula's victim); Robert Loveless, Dr. Quincy (ran the sanatorium); Rayne Marlow, Mrs. Fern (the housekeeper); Jennifer Cole, Lucy Westernra (dracula's second victim).

Other roles in the play were Andy Sealy, Grimm; Vicki Gregory, Mrs. Westernra (Lucy's Mother); Quent Gilbert, Arthur Holmwood (Lucy's fiancee); Kim Lunsford, Mina (Lucy's friend and Jonathan's wife); Cherrie Curfman, Flora (Lucy's personal maid); Kathy Norris, Nurse Cassidy (sanitorium worker); Ramona Murphy, Miss Anya (Jonathan's escort from Romania); Kristi Masters, Vampire's wife one; Melinda Merritt, wife two; LaRhonda Koonce, wife three; Diane Horsley, nurse of the sanitorium.

Other roles included many actors as the "crazies" of the sanitorium. They are Clint Potts, Gary Cotton, David Ethridge, David Babcock, Shane Sullivan and Keith Martin.

Lighting for the play was conducted by Andy Sealy, David Deavers, Keith Bryan; Sounds, Keith Martin, Gary Cotton, Kelly Farquar; Director's assistant, Clint Potts.

'My Fair Lady' sings all night

Polished and ready for opening night are Shane Sullivan, Chelle Kruger, Mark Lyon, Ramona Murphy, Robert Loveless, and Clint Potts.

London is the place; 1918 is the time, and Snyder High owns the auditorium that featured the all-school musical My Fair Lady on the weekend of January 22. The musical presented acting, singing, and instrumental music from the drama, band and choir departments.

The play was about a flower girl from the lowest level of British society who wanted to talk properly so she could get out of the slums. She met a teacher who could help her, and during the course of lessons she falls in love with him. He however, did not fall in love with her and as Drama Director Jerry Worsham put it, "There was an interesting conflict which was neatly resolved at the end of the play."

Costumes for the production were made by the Drama Department and look like the clothes of 1918.

Being in yearbook for the first time can be rather confusing. One has to learn all of the different terms and materials used. But one can always count on the students in second year to help them in anyway needed.

In yearbook, students are introduced to the field of Journalism. Students learn how to crop pictures, make and count headlines, draw lay-outs, and most of all how to use their imagination. The students work together to accomplish goals and meet deadlines.

Journalism classes would not be the same without the help and understanding of our instructor, Mrs. Cotton. She is always there to help with and explain things we may not understand.

A few changes were made in deciding the theme for the annual this year. All of the members of the staff got a chance to make up and develop their own theme and design. Several neat and unusual ideas were developed. Some of the themes were Take a Bite out of School; Soap Operas; and using song titles. All of the themes and ideas were voted on.

March crunches bring April crutches

From March 22 to April 9, several students had a broken or fractured leg.

Tim Derryberry was one of the four students that injured his leg. Tim broke his left leg in a SHS baseball game. He was playing second base, when an opponent slid into him. Tim broke his leg March 19. He wore a cast for three months.

Lance Leatherwood is another who injured his leg. While playing football. He broke his femer bone in his left leg. He did not know how long he would have a cast.

Carmen Parmer sprang her right ankle while falling off a back porch. She had crutches for five days.

Margaret Martin was on crutches in the month March. She tore three ligaments in her leg. She had to use them two to four weeks. She fell off a ladder and also off a bridge. "I think it's neat to wear crutches in a way because people do things for you and people you thought you would never talk to or meet, ask if they can help," said Margaret.

FCA goes mummied

Games people play is what FCA is in to at their first meeting, they played games such as mummy wrapping. The yellow group wrapped Dee Gilbert up in a given amount of time.

"That was one of the funniest games we played," said Calvin Wimmer. "We tried playing games everyone was interested in," added Calvin.

Shaving cream and squirting water were used in the next game. Members had their noses creamed and then girls squirted the cream off. Smeary faces were left.

"Running around a baseball bat involving picking up the bat and putting it on a forehead. The bat had to stay in place on the ground while the team member ran around seven times. "Talk about dizzy," said Sharmon Briggs.

DECA students win awards

The local DECA chapter Free Enterprise group project received first place recognition at the state finals in Corpus Christi. Individual DECA students earning first place area awards in DECA competency based competitive events included Jill Donelson in Finance and Credit and Sherry Holt in Apparel and Accessories. Jill is employed at First National Bank and Sherry at Dryden's Shoes.

Setting a new school record for SHS were the DECA students by receiving five first places and one second place award in district Marketing and Distributive Education.

Jack Gorman, Assistant Superintendent; Anita Fuentez, senior; Bill J. Hood, Superintendent; Gwen Scrivner, senior; Don West, Insurance.

Ann Melton also earned a first place award in Food Service as well as a first place for her individual Free Interprise Project. She is employed at Brown and Gray Motor Company.

Jill Donelson

Jim Simmons won a second place award in Petroleum Marketing. He is employed at Furr's Super Market.

Students were tested in three out of ten areas: advertising, business math, communications, display, human relations, managements, merchandising, product service, selling and store operating.

Science

Challenge to improve thinking, reasoning

Donna Doles, Todd Ansted, Joe Boudreau, and Robert Alarcon are busy at work in Mr. Strayhorn's class. Mrs. Lambert and Missy Mitchell talk about an experiment. Mr. Strayhorn, Craig Kimbler, and Connie Davis.

Mr. Strayhorn, science teacher, says, "I hope my students would improve their ability to think and to reason rather than simply regurgitate information. I would also like my students to remember my class as a challenge."

English

Students gleaming eyes rewarding to teacher

Alta Lynch, English teacher, helps Junior Monte Gambol with an essay. Martha Zeck, ninth grade English teacher, explains grammar to Dana Parham.

"I would like for my students to remember to continue critical reading and critical listening. Nothing is more rewarding than seeing the gleam of understanding come to a student's eyes. I enjoy working with teenagers both in and out of class," said Martha Schiebel, ninth grade English teacher.

Health

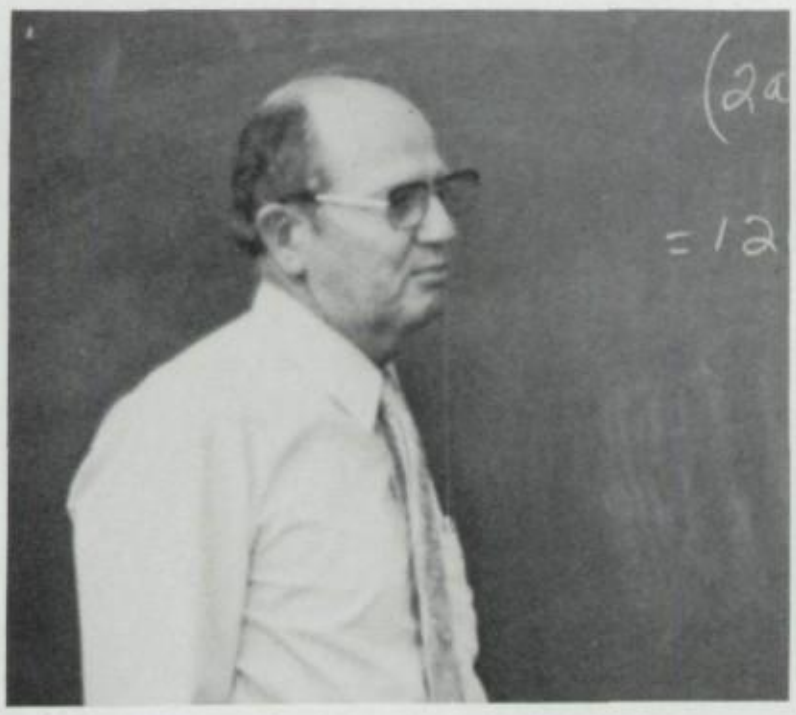
Teacher learns from students as they learn

Coaches Creswell and Grimmett discuss good health habits during class. Walter Hargrove explains study questions to Charles Bolinger.

"Teaching is not just a job. I enjoy teaching. I learn as much from my students as I hope they learn from me," said Patricia Grimmett, health teacher. From health class, Mrs. Grimmett said that she would like each of her students to leave with something they did not know that might benefit them in the future.

Math

Understanding numbers to apply them correctly



Len Fisher goes over math homework. Roy Carter shows students how to work out a geometry problem in class.

Ollie Peek demonstrates ratio problems to his students.

"I want my students to understand numbers so that they can use and manipulate them correctly. I expect them to come to class prepared and receptive to learning," said Miss Hargrove, math teacher. She added that she enjoys teaching and that she thinks she enjoys it more every year.

Drivers Ed

Students more aware of accidents

Left: Mr. Underwood prepares to teach Todd Sorrells the basic principles of driving a car. Right: Chris Maxfield gets ready to complete another step of drivers training.

Mr. Underwood said that students should learn to be more perceptive about how accidents occur after they complete a course of student driver training.

Business

Understand responsibilities made simple

Above: Kristi Key, Sabrina Robinson, Tina Burleson, and Lee Minyard practice typing to increase their speed. Tina Herrley learns the main functions of calculators. Left: Mary Roe prepares to type.

"After completing a business course that I have taught, students should be better prepared to enter upon a career and to understand their responsibilities in the business world," said Mrs. Killiam.

Art Students gain knowledge and appreciate quality work

Left: Robin Cross, Mr. Bigham, and Jennie Ynguanzo discuss the basic principles of art. Above: Keith Wallace uses his talent in art to make pottery.

"Upon finishing an art class, students should have a working knowledge of art and photography and have an appreciation for quality art and photography of the past and present," said Mr. Bigham.

History Students relate material learned in classes

Above: Ms. English watches her students Raymon Herrera and Gery Camp display posters.

Ms. English said that after students complete her history class they should be able to relate material learned in her class to material learned in other classes.

Aids learn as they work

Working in the office is not only for secretarial work, but one also developes a friendship with secretaries, teachers and other students.

When a person has problems the best thing to do is talk about them. As a student, it's hard to find someone you can trust. The secretaries, Mrs. Mebane and Mrs. Tovar are very easy to talk too. "Even students that aren't aids come to talk with me," said Mrs. Mebane.

"Mrs. Mebane is really easy to talk with. Sometimes I do get scared, but I talk," said office aid Imelda Sanches.

Not only with the secretaries but the students also discuss their problems with each other. The students learn to help one another and to confide in each other. They develope a friendship that carries on not only in the office but also after school. "We learn to trust each other. It's alot easier to talk openly with some of the aids," said office aid Marla Phipps.

"It gives me confidence that they leave me here alone without worrying," said counselor aid Cynthia Taylor.

Aids are sometimes left alone to run the office. The aids must answer the phone politely, file and take messages while the secretaries are away. Also, new students at Snyder High School are shown around by the aids so they can find their classes easily.

"We could turn the office over to Cynthia; she's excellent," said Mrs. Wesson, counselor.

Being left in charge of an office can give an aid a sense of responsibility. "It makes me feel like I can do anything," said Anna Robles, counselor aid.

Working in the library is a very responsible job for the aids. "We help people find books, recheck books, and we also make sure the books are in the right order," said Teresa Treadway, library aid.

From this experience an aid can find certain professional and personal benefits. "You can get to know alot of people in the library," said Darrel Robertson. "Working in the library also is a very good learning experience for a person who wants to be a secretarial worker in a public library," added Treadway.

Working in the AV room is beneficial not only for students but teachers as well. Marvin Morrell said, "We run off memos for teachers and take different machines to teachers rooms like film projectors."

Play It Your Way

These days life may seem hard;
There are so many trials you must face.
People says you can't play your song forever,
But it is your song so you must play it your way.

When you take your life for granted, that is when the song ends for you.
When you just can't go on give just a little more because this is your song; play it your way.

When you're able to play it your way easily,
that's when you've got your life under control.
Don't try to be someone you admire because they've got their song and you've got yours;
So play it your way.

Though today you don't feel happy
Work towards a brighter tomorrow
Because your life is a song you share;
So play it your way.

Kim Burton, secretary; Carrie Lieb, vice-president; Teresa Dodson, president; Melissa Garcia, reporter.

New Class officers were elected Wednesday, November 11. Mrs. Gorman, sophomore sponsor said, "Officers are usually head of the class. They oversee fund raising, especially during the food drive."

The Senior Class won the food drive with 245 pounds of food and $2,003.32. Helping the senior cause was an anonymous donation of $1,000.

The Junior Class came in second place with 76 pounds of food and $888.00. The sophomores were in third place with 138 pounds of food and $860.00. Freshman, who are new to food drive competition, finished last, but did well, according to Teresa Dodson, president. "We only had four people working and what we did was great for the amount of time and people," she said.

"Even though the seniors won the prize, we are all winners because we were successful in binding together for a common cause," said Mindy Aldridge, Junior Class reporter.

Mindy Aldridge, reporter for the Junior class, makes a long distance call to Texas Tech.

Linda Walker takes time out for Student Council meeting.

The elderly and the truly needy have been helped by the students and are very grateful," said Williams.

"We depend too much on the big businesses. If more people would get more involved, we'd be able to make the Food Drive a bigger success, and the whole community could participate," said senior class reporter, Tracey O'Day.

Report cards require signatures

"Due to a large number of failures." said Lee Presswood, assistant principal. "Students are now required to have their report cards signed.

This signature policy was brought up at a teachers' inservice meeting on December 22. In this meeting teachers expressed their concern about those students who do not even pick up their report cards at the end of the nine weeks or at the end of the semester."

This lack of interest causes problems when parents call at the end of the year and ask why their child failed when they never saw a report card the entire year.

Now that students are required to have their report cards signed, all the administrators have to do is pull out the student's folder and show the parents the signed report card. If the card is forged, it could cause conflicts between the parents and the student later.

"At the end of the five weeks, teachers sent out failing notices to parents but we got little response," said Presswood.

Student response to the report card signature was mixed.

"The last time I had to get a report card signed was in grade school," said Terry Linsley, senior. "The next thing you know we will have to take our papers with bad grades home to get them signed," he added.

"Now that we are in high school, we should not have to hide things like our grades from our parents. If everyone had been taking their report cards home from the beginning, there probably would not be as many failing students," said Wendy Hodge, sophomore.

Parents will find out sooner or later how good or bad their child is doing in school. They will also realize that their child has been keeping the report cards from them under the policy. "We will call parents of the students who do not bring their report cards back and make sure they have seen the cards," said Principal Ray Courtney.

"There is a strong possibility that parents signing report cards will become and annual policy," said Presswood.

"Report cards may be picked up and kept by students at the end of the year upon request."

Junior classes satirize laws

"Unjust" laws were the topics of some satire written by Albert Taylor's junior English class. The following pieces concern some of the laws that students think are "dumb" or unnecessary.

Closed Campus by Becky Pylant

In some schools across the country the campus is completely closed. This is very necessary to keep all juvenile delinquents off the streets during school hours. If they happen to sneak out of school, it could be disastrous. In fact, most of the kids in this nice, respectable school are criminals or killers; therefore, keep all school doors locked during class hours.

Adult Movies

It makes perfect sense that a person over the age of 12 must pay adult prices to be admitted into a movie theater but must be over 17 to see adult movies. It is obvious that it will cost a considerable amount more to show a movie to a group of slightly older people than to a group of younger people. This is, indeed, a great step up for young people. The paying of adult prices before a person is old enough to see adult movies will certainly help them to mature into adults.

Drama jocks new species?

John Wilson, the "drama jock" has performed in many plays and has participated in some sports. Wilson, during his freshman year at Snyder High, was a member of the Christmas Follies and played on the Freshman basketball and baseball team.

He was later honored as class favorite his sophomore year. During this year he played on the J.V. basketball team until he was moved up to varsity. He was moved up when Snyder won the Bi-district title.

During the summer after his sophomore year, John, Mr. Jerry Worsham, drama director, and a few other drama students took a trip to California. While at California, John was really excited because of the famous people they saw in person. At one restaurant they saw Skip Stevenson from Real People.

During his junior year, he was in drama. He participated in Our Town as Sam Craige. He assisted Mr. Worsham in The Royal Hunt of the Sun. The play won some, district, regional and competed at the state performance. Wilson was asked to play the role of Demetreous, the same year (junior year), when the SHS Drama students were especially invited to Austin, Texas to restage, A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Wilson, as the "Drama-jock," also played baseball last year. He played third baseman and is looking forward to the next season.

Two life members of the Buzz Brothers fraternity are Steve Gressett and Bryan Limmer.

Lineman say bald is beautiful

If you have been walking in the hall or in the Student Center and have seen three guys with marine style haircuts, they really are not marines. They are just three senior linemen on the Tiger football team.

These three guys, who had the biggest part of their hair buzzed off at Bill Love's Barber Shop, became known as the Buzz Brothers. These three famous or infamous (whichever fits) guys were Bryan Limmer, Trey "Muckhead" Harlin, and Steve Gressett.

"I was the one that did it first," said Limmer.

"Well, I was sittin' there laughn' at him and cryin' at the same time 'cause I knew my hair would have to come off if his did," said Harlin.

"Yeah, I was the one that was dumb enough to go along with it," said Steve Gressett.

When asked what inspired them to have their hair cut, Limmer replied, "Dedication to the team." "Team spirit," said Harlin. "And we wanted to be bad," added Gressett.

The three agreed that all the older generation loved their new look while the younger generation wanted to know why in the heck they did it.

Pigs parking lot:

Closed at 9, off limits to teens

Making the Drag has been a popular pastime for Snyder teenagers through the years. It consists of driving from Towle Park, down College Avenue by the courthouse and back again with many stops along the way. An era ended recently when one of the stops, the Piggly Wiggly parking lot, came to a screeching halt with the erection of two signs that read, "No trespassing 9 p.m. to 6 a.m; Violators will be prosecuted."

Before the Sonic and Taco Villa existed, Snyder teenagers journeyed to the courthouse square in order to socialize and see their friends. But when these and many more fast food restaurants came to life, the asphalt jungle called the Piggly Wiggly parking lot became Snyder's late night hot-spot.

Everything was fine until the parking people abused their freedom. By conveniently busting beer and coke bottles all over the pavement, the parking lot became known as an obstacle course of broken glass with a few moldy hamburgers scattered on top.

"They cut their own throats," said Sergeant Scoggins of the Snyder Police Department, "If they wouldn't leave the lot looking like a dump, people wouldn't mind."

As a result of this abuse, the complaints from many customers receiving flat tires, Mrs. E. H. Williamson (owner of the lot and most of the Piggly Wiggly shopping center) went to the City Council to receive permission for a no trespassing after hours sign.

"We had some customers say that they wouldn't come back anymore if there were going to be broken bottles and things there," said Mrs. Williamson.

From another point of view, Sammy Hancock, manager of Piggly Wiggly said, "We have nothing against the young adults. However, When you come to work and your lot is covered with broken bottles and cans, and you have to pay a man to clean it up; it just costs money."

He also said, "We're afraid that a few kids might get rowdy and valdalize the parking lot. We wouldn't mind them parking if they would behave. It's a sad situation, but until people can learn to respect property that's the way it is going to be."

Opinions differ from students at SHS pertaining to the lot curfew. "It is stupid. Now we don't have anywhere to go. We just have to ride around and waste gas," said Sophomore Laurie Donelson.

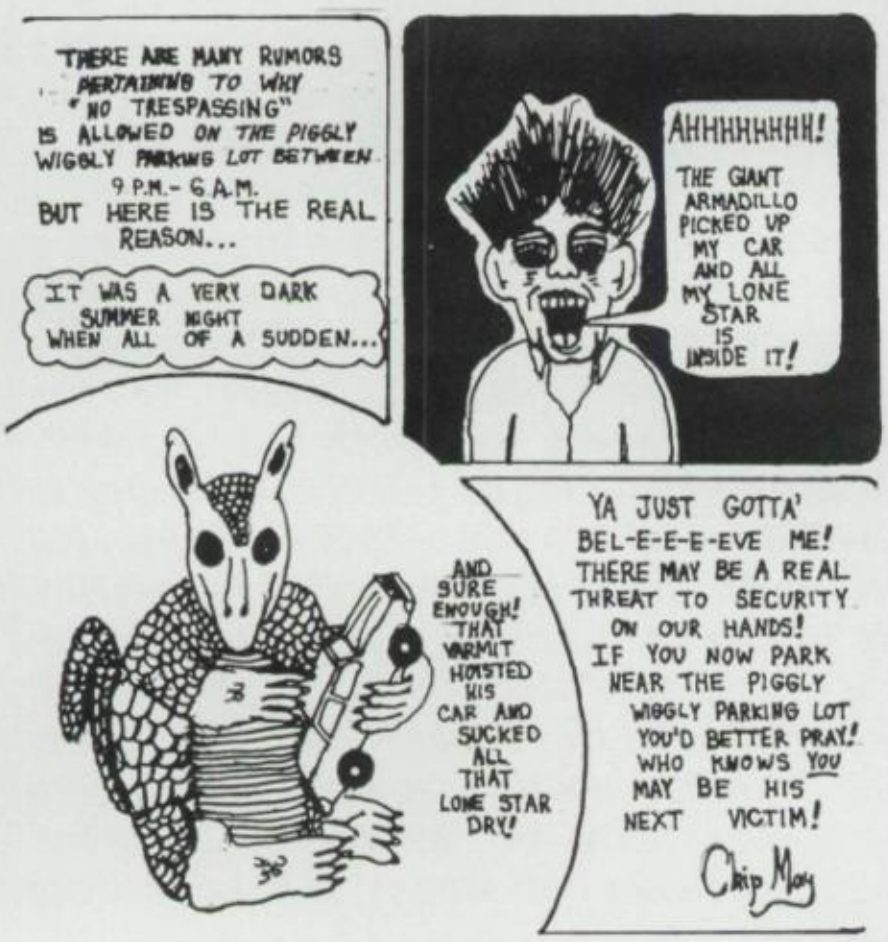
"I think it is better for people to be on a parking lot if they are going to drink, than be driving around drinking," said Junior Calvin Wimmer.

Some students, however, think the signs should be displayed. Junior Ross Bawcum said, "I think it is good. If people can't pick up their own beer bottles, they don't deserve to park there."

From information received by the Snyder Police Department, the phrase "Violator will be prosecuted" means a warning will be issued the first time and a citation will be issued the second time to those parked on the lot after nine.

In addition to placing a curfew on the Piggly Wiggly parking lot, other threats exist pertaining to teenagers' freedom in Snyder. Highland Bakery has also complained to the police, asking them to tell anyone there after hours to leave. The owner of the bakery called because of the broken bottles and general trashy appearance of the lot. K-Mart has indicated that it too will put up signs if their lot is abused.

Teenagers might do well to consider throwing their empty bottles and cans in the dipster dumpster next time they are on a business' parking lot and have the urge to bust an empty bottle. If they don't, they may be forcing every place in town to follow the example of the one hotspot, but now deadbeat Piggly Wiggly parking lot.



THERE ARE MANY RUMORS PERTAINING TO WHY "NO TRESPASSING" IS ALLOWED ON THE PIGGLY WIGGLY PARKING LOT BETWEEN 9 P.M. - 6 A.M. BUT HERE IS THE REAL REASON...
IT WAS A VERY DARK SUMMER NIGHT WHEN ALL OF A SUDDEN...
AHHHHHHHH!
THE GIANT ARMADILLO PICKED UP MY CAR AND ALL MY LONE STAR IS INSIDE IT!
AND SURE ENOUGH! THAT VARMIT HOISTED HIS CAR AND SUCKED ALL THAT LONE STAR DRY!
YA JUST GOTTA' BEL-E-E-E-EVE ME! THERE MAY BE A REAL THREAT TO SECURITY ON OUR HANDS! IF YOU NOW PARK NEAR THE PIGGLY WIGGLY PARKING LOT YOU'D BETTER PRAY! WHO KNOWS YOU MAY BE HIS NEXT VICTIM!

Sophomores bring to Sophomores in Mrs. Watkins' English classes brought colors to life in a writing assignment on figurative language.

Cherie Curfman concentrated on black. "Black envelopes with an eerie velvetness. Chimney smoke creeping against a darkening sky, rustling limbs of an ancient tree and the flight of a raven stirs the soul. The foreboding emptiness of a long tunnel, a darkened stairway, the gaping mouth of a cave worn in the side of a cliff, and an empty car abandoned on a desert road disquiets comfortable thoughts. Blackness of the bugaboo that peers in through a shadowy window on a rainy night is a foolish thing to fear. We know he is nothing but darkness, yet we are never quite sure. Black is as infathomable in the furthermost depths of the sea, as it is in an oil-filled crevice in the street. Black remains in the background of a saucy, teasing candle, waiting patiently. When a slight breeze takes the candle by surprise, black once again envelopes the cozy little room."

life nature's colors

Laurie Donelson concentrated on yellow. "Yellow is a color that brings warmth to the heart and happiness to the soul. The color yellow itself is a carefree color. It usually brings to mind all the good times of summer. One thinks of warm, sunshine-filled days with hardly a care in the world. Yellow can really brighten up the day. In the winter, stormy weather and bleak days can bring down the spirit, but curling up in front of a blazing yellow fire can make life seem worth living once again. Yellow conjures up thoughts of the newness and freshness of spring. The Cheerful brightness of the jonquil and buttercup are colored in yellow. It reminds one of the eager smiles of happy children as they see baby yellow chicks and colored Easter eggs on Easter morning. The hue of yellow is a bright splash of happiness that adds to any scene in life.

Girls take to knee knickers

Knickers are the style this year and many of the girls are wearing them. These knee pants come in many different kinds of fabric: corderoy, wool, blue jeans and others.

"I really enjoy wearing knickers," said Vicky Lopez, junior. She also said, "They are something new to wear; they are different from all the other clothes."

Melissa Garcia, freshman, said, "One thing you've got to worry about when wearing knickers is making sure you don't have any holes in your socks."

Another problem is having knobby knees. "They make my knees feel bare," said Robin Huntsman, sophomore. Regina Dunkin said that they made her feel shorter.

Some of the girls feared they would be embarrassed the first time they wore them. "I was embarrassed at first, but got over it because people who made fun of me later went out and bought themselves a pair," said Garcia.

Ybarra multiplies talents

Mary Ybarra who is of Spanish descent is a second year French student. She took French because she thought it would be helpful later in life. Mary said, "I would love to go to Europe. It's really beautiful. I like the castles there instead of the Texas oilfields here." Ybarra has three names, Mary in English, but translated to Spanish it is Maria, and her French name is Chantel. She is the reporter for the French Club.

Mary also has been playing the piano for about 4½ years. She plays where she goes to church. She said, "I like to play all kinds of music, but I especially enjoy classical music." Mary also said, "I like to play, if I didn't I wouldn't put so much work into it. It is just another way of relaxing from this hurried life we all live." Ybarra takes lessons from Mrs. Judy Neil.

Difficulties of weekend studying

Friday afternoon, I have the thought of a big history test set for Monday looming in the back of my head. I've already figured out that in order to pass, I'll have to study over the weekend. I have problems studying on weekends. Unless I'm very dedicated to my school work, I'll have a date Friday and Saturday night rather than sit at home in bed with history papers flung all over my room. I usually try to watch Dallas and study at the same time.

After the big date Friday night, I tend to sleep until lunch Saturday and spend the rest of the afternoon with important details such as taking a shower, washing my hair, putting my makeup on to perfection and taking time out to pop a pimple here and there. After those major preparations, I have to decide what I'm going to wear, what shoes and purse match it and what kind of perfume to smear on. My date is late, and I start taking off my shoes. The doorbell finally rings and I'm off on my date.

Monday morning when I walk into history first period, my heartbeat increases. I sit at my desk, gripping my pen, trying to get rid of the giant lump in my throat until the teacher passes out the test. All I can when I receive the test is put my heading on it and start recalling my eeny, meeny, miney, mo's. I turn my paper in and return to my desk. I look up and see my teacher's red pen going crazy on my paper. Not knowing what to do or say, I mumbel, "Next time, I'll study, and when next time rolls around, well I have problems studying on weekends.

Counselor John Short orients freshman students Susie Campos and Teresa Zamora.

Enrollment in Snyder High had a slight decrease for the 1981-82 school year. As of September 4, 902 students walked the halls of SHS compared to 918 a year ago. The slight decrease was blamed on some smaller classes making their way through the school system. Since the 1978-79 school year, when the present seniors were freshman, the enrollment has decreased by 148 people, from 1,050 to 902.

The freshman class had a pretty sizeable increase over last year with 232 in '80-81 to 256 in '81-82.

Sophomores had a big loss of students this year with 213 compared to an '80-81 total of 244.

The junior class diminished by 28 with 210, compared to last years total of 238.

Finally, with a total of 223, the senior class actually has an increase over '80-81 with 204.

One of the factors concerning enrollment is student retention. To move to the next grade level a freshman must earn 0-3 units; sophomore, 4-8 units; and a junior, 9-14 units; to be classified as a senior, a student must have 15 units and to graduate he must have 21.

Dreamweaver spurns fancy car

Having a car and a driver's license is very important to those of us who have become proud owners of both, if only in our imaginations.

I picture myself driving a fancy firebird down College Avenue with my car full of bums who refuse to use their own cars and gas.

My friends and I constantly argue about where we should go. I say it's my car and I'll do what I want to. They say if I don't follow their directions, they'll leave, and I'll be alone on the drag which is a constant fear of mine.

Okay, my friends wir., and we're riding through the park. I'm speeding (unconsciously of course) and a policeman pulls me over. He asks to see my license. Being a proud sixteen year old, I take my license out and say: "Here, officer."

The officer says, "Evidently, this is your first offense. Next time try to remember not to bump your head getting out of the car or bite off all your finger nails before I get my pen out of my pocket." He lets me off "this once," and I graciously kiss his feet.

I'm very careful to observe the speed limit now as we head for Taco Villa to satisfy my passengers' munches. Everyone in the back seat orders a guadalajara. We soon discover the green guacamole doesn't mix very well with the cream interior of my firebird. I say, "Throw it out the window." Jane tries to throw it out the window and her orange spills all over Ton's white jeans. Tom jumps up and tries to dry his jeans off. He sits back down on Amy's ketchup and it squirts out all over the seat. Meanwhile, in the front seat, Susan takes a bite of her meat burrito, and the sauce spews out all over the dashboard.

I can't take much more of this. Joe who hasn't caused my car any suffering yet, whistles everyone to a quiet calm. Unfortunately, Joe had to take gum out of his mouth before whistling: Where to you think he put it? Not in the ashtray. He stuck the gum under my seat. I decide that this little shindig is over, and I start taking everyone home.

When the last person is out and not a word is heard in my car, I head home. I go inside, take six asprin and face my burrito on wheels. I open the door and try to walk off, but I just can't. I feel that I owe my car a thorough cleaning. Even If it takes all night, I start by trying to get the green sauce off of the dashboard.

Next, I reach under the seat to get out all the trash sacks. My hand sticks to Joe's gum. Eventually, I break loose and start on the back seat. The guacamole and Ketchup smeared all over my cream colored seats looks like an inside-out stomach, so I spray my trusty 409 on it and decide to let it soak for a while.

Last year a law was passed which denied 18-year-olds the right to buy liquor until age 19. Admittedly, Texas legislators had good intentions in trying to banish the intake of alcoholic beverages on the high school level. This law, however, has not accomplished its purpose.

First of all, many high school students go to parties on weekends that serve alcoholic beverages outside the city limits. Because the parties are outside town boundaries, the police do not patrol the area, and these teenagers drive into town intoxicated.

In the second place, 18-year-olds are not the major problem. The problem is 16-and 17- year olds who drink, not because they like it, but in order to be rebellous. Since 18-year olds are considered minors now, they will probably add their own resentment to their younger friends' rebellion.

Finally, Texas legislators must not have accounted for those teenagers who have friends that are 19 and older. These friends may buy alcoholic beverages for minors.

A solution is not evident to this problem. The only way to prevent a minor from obtaining alchohol if he wants it bad enough is to keep an eye on him 24 hours a day; and because this law may spark resentment as well as rebellion, it proves to be more of a hindrance than a help.

Lisa Cobb vs Pac-Man

Lisa Cobb started out playing a different variety of games until Pac-Man came along. Her highest score has been 1,000,000.

"When I go down to the Recreation Center I play until I run out of quarters or time," said Lisa.

If Lisa could invent her own game, she said, "I'm pretty sure I would invent a Pac-Woman, but as long as I've got Pac-Man, I wouldn't want to invent her.

Fans categorized

Geoffrey Chamblee

Football fans dome in all shapes and sizes. They are all very different, yet they can usually be catagorized.

Women, who know little or nothing about the game, make up the first class. These are the people who cheer when the other team makes a touchdown and then ask intelligently, "What's happened?"

Our second category is composed of the men who know everything there is to know about football and more. They know every team, every player and his number, the scores from every game in the last 20 years, and most important, who is going to win every game.

Next we have the vocal class. These people rant and rave at every penalty and every call that goes against their team. They have been heard to say, "You need glasses ref," or "Come on, he was crawling all over his back!" Only one word of advice about these people; don't sit in front of them. If, however, you are forced to, you might consider borrowing a helment and shoulder pads from a player. You'll probably need them more than he does.

Lastly, we come to the "perfect" category. Members of this class don't know everything about football, but they come close. They can usually predict the outcome of a game and coach the team to victory, but occasionally they make a mistake. They never get excited, and always know what is happening. Why can't all fans be like them?

Salad dressing cocktail spices up afternoon at restaurant

Working is beginning to be about the only thing a freshman can do to raise extra money. Some of us work just to get extra spending money; some of us work for fun. Now I work for fun and to get away from pesty little sisters at a Spanish food restaurant.

One Saturday night we were very busy. I was in a hurry and I was throwing all the leftover food in a wash tub. I threw a glass full of milk which overflowed onto a man at a nearby table. He turned around and looked at me and just left.

Another time a man asked me if we had a telephone, I said yea, outside. I thought he had left and his table was empty, so I threw everything in the tub. When he came back he said, "Oh my gosh, what happened?"

Some days when we are busy we don't know what we're doing. the waitresses tell me to pour water and I forget and pour tea. When people of four come in I always spill water on their table. (Four isn't my lucky number.) When Business is slow we make our own entertainment.

One day one of the waiters made a salad dressing cocktail. I never knew how terrible salad dressing tasted on the rocks.

I haven't been working very long, but so far I think it's fun and a bit confusing.

Freshman enters skate-a-thon

A ten-hour skate-a-thon for the benefit of the Mentally Retarded Citizens of Texas was held Saturday, November 14, at Skateworld.

All the money made from kids participating in the skate-a-thon was donated to the mentally retarded children.

Rosario Ortagon was the only high school student who participated in the skate-a-thon.

A freshman, Ortegon was confident she could last the required distance of 100 miles. "I did it last year," she said "I didn't train for it or anything." I just skated like I always do, only for a longer period of time," she added.

Her thoughts after the super skate were, "I'm glad it's over; it was easy but also tiring. The first thing I did when it was over was to take off my skates and get something to drink. For her efforts she got a pair of Radio Ear Phones.

Rosario Ortegon participated in a Skate-a-thon for the benefit of mentally retarded citizens.

Dropouts: Students quit school, get married

Since school started, 132 students have withdrawn from Snyder High. Out of this number 55 were freshman, 32 sophomores, 29 juniors and 16 seniors. These figures include students who transferred, preregistered but never showed up, and those who quit."

"Eighty-three of these 132 students didn't even show up this year," said Principal Ray Courtney. "Out of this number the majority have quit school for a variety of reasons.

According to school administrators, most boys leave because they want to work and earn money, because they take the GED and think it is the same as a high school education. Girls, on the most part, leave because of pregnancy or marriage.

"Those who quit have their priorities in the wrong places," said Ruthie Rasberry, secretary for the counselors. "They are not thinking of the future when their education will really be important to them," she added.

Apparently, after a student quits, he finds out what the real world is like. "The reason I quit was due to family problems. I don't like being out of school a all. Some students think it is cool to quit, but they would think differently if they actually were to do it," said a former SHS student.

Out of four students asked about quitting school, three said they were sorry they left, and two are planning to come back.

"I try to talk students into staying by making phone calls and having conferences, but a lot of them leave any way. Later on many decide to return. The process is easy. All they have to do is come back and re-enroll, said Courtney.

Booth boosts career in movie

Movies should take on a new meaning in Snyder since Powers Boothe, a Snyder High ex, starred in the production, "Southern Comfort."

Boothe already earned a name for himself for his Emmy award winning performance in the made-for-TV movie, "The Guyana Tragedy."

"Southern Comfort" tells the story of some National Guardsmen on a training maneuver in the Louisiana swamps. They anger Cajun owners and their tempers are not improved when the soldiers start shooting blanks at them. Actually that is all it takes to turn a war game into a deadly game.

Boothe played the role of a tough transfer from Texas and teams with a city boy (Keith Carradine) to lead a bunch of panicky weekend soldiers.

Movie critics in Time and Newsweek praised Boothe's performance and said he has a bright future in acting.

Fisk frisky about feline pets

Sandy Fisk, freshmen, has five kittens. Sandy found them under her trailer, One cat named Sam was given to her by her grandmother.

When Sam wants something to eat he tells Sandy by scratching on the cabinet door. Another one of her cats named Blacky, meows at the moon. Sometimes her cats even watch TV with her.

Just lately one of them died. He drowned in the bathtub. "My brother bawled and bawled about it", said Sandy. The cat was really his.

New wave ebbs as heavy metal triumphs

Occasional music listeners may have noticed something strangely different on their FM dials lately. You may have thought it was static due to poor reception when you heard guitars jamming at volume levels rivaling a 747.

Fear not, though, you have encountered New Wave's successor. That's right, heavy metal has made a comeback. The new heavy metal movement is actually almost identical to the first hard rock crashes of the last sixties.

During these years concert goers were beginning to get burned out on psychodelic rock. They wanted something with more energy. Thus, Led Zipplin descended a stairway from heaven, to solve the energy shortage. They were soon followed by such metallic monstrosities as Black Sabbath, Grand Funk Railroad, Aerosmith, Deep Purpose and Steppenwolf.

But, like the old saying, "the bigger they are the harder they fall," these dinosaurs were slammed back into obscurity during the seventies. People in the seventies wanted fashionable music like New Wave. But in the eighties, folks discovered a lack of energy again. Now heavy metal has reared its head again. For the novice to this genre, heavy metal may be divided into three groups:

Gloria Rodriguez
Henry Rodriguez
Janie Rodriguez
Ricky Rodriguez

What are lyrics? Bands in this category exhibit a phenomenon known as guitarus eruptus maximus. Lyrics do not count much here: pounding, throbbing, and soaring guitars are the entree. Among the elite of this group are Iron Maiden, Judas Priest, Krokus, Motorhead, Scorpions, Michael Schenker Group and Saxon.

Let's make money. They still rely on guitar eruptions, but they have found out there are big bucks made my putting together groups of notes into humable riffs. Commercialized, but still rock'in are Pat Travers, White Snake, AC/DC, Nazareth, Molly Hatchet and Rush.

Southern style. Although not brandishing the familiar metallic sounds, their rock rolls no less than the others. Leading the southern uprising are 38 Special, Blackfoot the late Lynyrd Skynyrd Band, Point Blank and the Rossington Collins Band. There are not a lot of them, but things are always bigger in the south.

Now that you know what it is, and which bands are the best, the next time you hear something like a highway chain collision you will know your radio is not on the blink.

DeLorean sports car sparks dreams of ownership

With all the excitement of Roger Mize, president of Snyder National Bank, buying an $85,000 24-caret gold plated De Lorean sports car, I began wondering what some high school students would do with the car if they owned it.

Now, when I wonder about things like this, I have two choices: just sit and wonder or go ask someone that knows. In this case, I went to my all-knowing, all-telling, mind-reading friend from Pakistan, C.J. Camel-jockey and asked him what certain high school students would do with the car if it were theirs. Here is what he had to say: Jim Paul Williams: Total it. Perry Echols: go four wheelin' in it. Kenneth "Grasshopper" Jones: Chase girls in it. Steve Gressett: scrape all the gold off and sell the car. Bryan Limmer: ruin it by putting a Texas A&M bumper sticker on it. Brenda Anderson: act just like a female "Hollywood" Henderson. Wendy Hodge: look at it and wish she had her driver's license. Trey Harlin: nothing except print "MUCKHEAD" on both sides of the gold plated car.

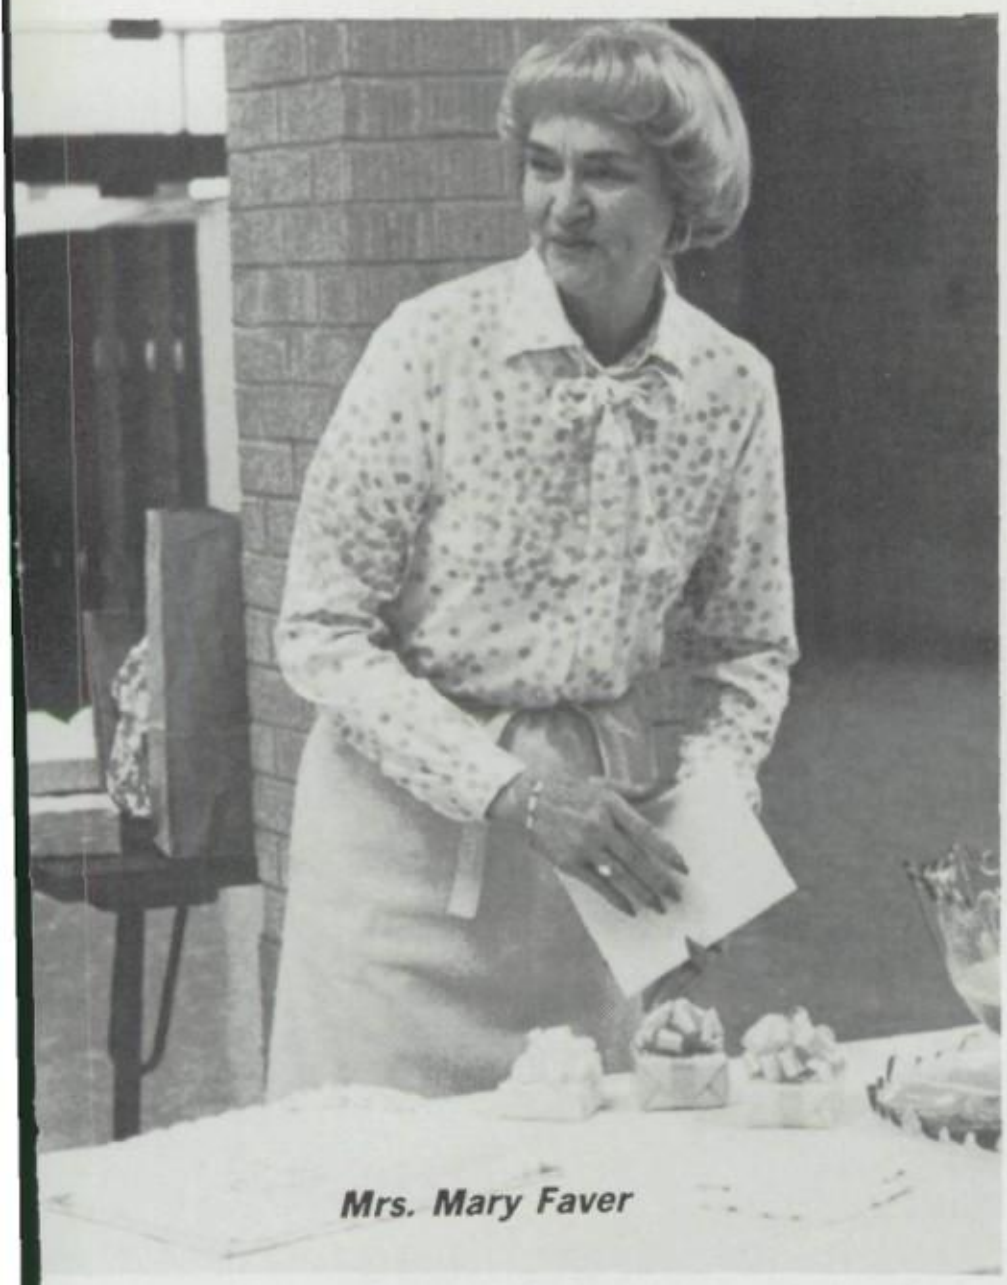
Faver retires



Mrs. Mary Faver

Mary Faver, teacher at Snyder High School for 31 years, retired last year.

While at Snyder High, Mrs. Faver taught sophomore English. During her early years, she also coached volleyball and was pep squad sponsor.

The oil boom brought many people to Snyder and many students to SHS. The number of girls wanting to play volleyball presented the need for a coach. She said that even though she only coached one year, she enjoyed it.

"The challenge of getting ideas across to kids and being around kids is what I like most about teaching," said Mrs. Faver. She said that students should set goals for themselves. "I wish students, while they are still in high school, would realize the importance of a good education," she added.

Ray Courtney, principal of SHS was a former student of Mrs. Favers. "She gave me a good background. She was special," he said.

Ned Underwood taught with Mrs. Faver for over 20 years. Mr. Underwood says she was a professional teacher. Mr. Underwood was also a student of Mrs. Faver.

Worsham at his very best

Jerry Worsham, speech and drama teacher, was elected as Speech Teacher of the Year by the State Speech Communication Association in October.

Worsham said, "I was very pleased and honored to get the award. The organization is mainly made up of college and high school teachers."

Only four finalists were selected out of about 18. There is one teacher for every school district in Texas.

Another acclaimed drama teacher, Larry Preas, visited here from the University of Texas. Preas came to play critic for the drama department's fall production.

"Snyder has an outstanding drama program and a widely known instructor," said Larry Preas, acclaimed drama teacher.

In addition to the teacher of the year award, Worsham also received the Texas Educational Theatre Association and the US Institute of Theatre Technology award. It is the highest award given for theatre in Texas education.

At the ceremony, which was held in the ballroom of the Hyatt Regency Hotel in San Antonio, February 6, Mr. Worsham was presented with an engraved plaque. He also received a dozen red roses from students in the drama department at SHS. The students were scheduled to be on a program at the convention but were not able to do so because of the icy road conditions that weekend. The University of Texas at Austin had planned to video the workshop for use as a training film. The workshop was rescheduled for Spring.

The drama department is also widely known around SHS for boosting spirit for the sports teams. Drama students painted a spirit mobile for home football games.

Otto half backwards

In one embarrassing incident, during class, Brenda Otto, English teacher, found she was half backwards.

"I was wearing a pair of pants with a seam sewn down in the front. I had pulled tugged, and straightened them all morning; they were soooo uncomfortable. As I started to the door with my roll during third period, one of my girls remarked, 'I've never seen a pair of pants with the seam sewn down in the back.' I wanted to die; I had my pants on backwards."

Science class

Up in smoke

Marshal Parham, science teacher, said he remembers an incident that seems funny to him now, but at the time it happened was rather serious.

"I was mixing red phosphorus and potassium chlorate (to show how matches are made.) I cut a lump of phosphorus and it ignited — filling the west end of the building full of smoke.

"The Janitor went to the principal and I got the students outside.

"When the Janitor and the Principal returned, the smoke was so thick it was impossible to see into the classroom. They thought that I and my students were still in the building, so the Principal put his hankerchief over his mouth and began probing around in the smoke for someone he might be able to rescue."

Is a vertical line up or down?

One basic concept a math student must understand is the difference between horizontal and vertical. In James Littlepage's geometry class a student got a bit confused. "I had told the student to draw a vertical line," said Littlepage and this is what occurred:

Student: "You mean up or down?
Teacher: "Yes."
Student: With a somewhat blank look, "Up or down."
Teacher: "Yes."
Student: With an impatient voice, "Well, which is it? Up or Down?

'He will be a winner one day'

"I taught a young man in Sweetwater who played football, basketball and track, but he was not talented in either. He hardly ever played in any game and he never won a race, but he never complained.

I received a letter from him which said he appreciated the encouragement, teaching and opportunity to compete in athletics. His letter was gratifying to me as his teacher and coach. He will be the winner one day."

Sealy brings puppets alive

"I can express the two major areas in my life, my music and my religion, with my puppets," said Senior Lori Sealy. Sealy is the head member of the puppet ministry at the First Baptist Church.

Lori has six main puppets: Ralph, Willie, Holly, Timmy, Ralph II, and Scruffy. She ordered these puppets from Puppet Productions, Inc. in California. She would like to add one more, a black girl child. Each of these have a certain personality. Her first puppet was Ralph, which she got in the eight grade. Ralph has traveled on church mission trips and has performed in Colorado, all throughout Texas, and in the Osage Water Ski Show in Missouri.

Sealy enjoys her puppets mainly because they allow her real "self" to come out. She has some advice for all puppeteers: "Always expect the UNEXPECTED!"

Hendley wants equal treatment

"I want the kids here to treat me like any other student," said Senior Karen Hendley.

Karen is deaf. She lost her hearing at the age of eighteen months. Her loss of hearing was the result of a serious case of measles. "I was able to hear again at age three with the aid of a hearing aid," said Karen.

She attended a state school for nine years in Santa Fe, New Mexico. There she was enrolled in a thirty minute speech class in addition to required courses. This course enabled Karen to do better in other classes. "I still feel self-concious talking in front of people if there is a big crowd around. It bothers me for people to always ask me to speak up or repeat something I've said," she explained.

My inability to hear well has not kept me back in any of my classes.

Although I admit I have a little trouble in English because of all the discussions held in class.

Senior co-editor reaches top

Quietly yet steadily making his way through four years of yearbook and two years of newspaper, Senior and co-editor Pat Martinez dedicates alot of his spare time to help meet deadline for the yearbook and newspaper.

"Pat has developed into an excellent co-editor during his four years in yearbook. In his own quiet but effective way, Pat has proven himself as a real leader among students. The knowledge of page design, special effects, writing, and copy has really blossomed in Pat this year. He and co-editor Theresa Browning are my first two students who I can truly say have lived up to their title," commented Yearbook Advisor JoAnn Cotton.

"I think Pat does a good job, and he knows what he is doing," said yearbook student Becky Hernandez. "I think Pat deserves being editor, because he has worked so hard and everybody likes him,' said yearbook II student Sherry Spells. "Pat has done a good job. He has worked hard to accomplish his goals," commented co-editor, Theresa Browning.

Couto, AFS Visitor

Monica Couto, American Field Service Foreign Exchange student from Brazil says her city Riburo Prefo is bigger than Snyder.

Having graduated from high school in Brazil, Monica is a senior at SHS. At school in Brazil students go to classes from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. then participate in afternoon sports. The teachers stay at school during the sports session to help the students with any questions they may have.

In her home town, soccer takes the place of American football as the most popular sport. Monica has gone to the football games and she says, "I don't understand the rules. I don't know exactly what's happening."

Monica, accustomed to speaking Portuguese, had to take her translation book out several times during a conversation with a fellow student. She says that she can speak English now, but is trying to learn to speak more clearly.

In Brazil, Monica has a brother 14 and a sister 17. She keeps in touch by mail. In Snyder, Monica has one sister, Penny Wolfe. She lives with Penny and her mother, Dot Wolfe.

This is what happens when you try to do a term paper, Todd Stephens.

Seniors do special projects

Seniors Camilla Crawford and Loyd Sands work in the library on their term papers. Tommy Collum does research in the periodical room for his term paper. Jessica Richardson, Perry Echols, Bryan Limmer and Sharon Bynum dissect a fetal pig in advanced biology class. Jack O'Banion gets ready for to write his final draft.

'Around world in 80 days' prom theme

The theme for the junior-senior prom was "Around the world in eighty days."

The class officers that helped organize the prom are Richard Derrick, president; Nolan von Roeder, vice president, Becky Pylant, secretary; and Mindy Aldridge, reporter. The map committee, chaired by Mindy Aldridge drew an 80 foot world map which stretched across the coliseum.

Richard Derrick and Nolan VonRoeder helped construct a huge volcano.

Becky Pylant made the memory books and helped with the Anarctica committee.

There were video games in Las Vegas; and fountains in the side walk cafe.

Mary Castillo, Dean Cruse, Jeana Fox, and Chip May all dance to the bunny hop.

Ramon Jefferey, Gregg Pruitt, Russell Martinez, and Robert Rodriquez.

Mindy Aldridge, Tom Bills

Strayhorn expresses gratitude

The junior-senior prom was a wonderful success due to the initiative and dedication of a small group of junior students.

Working with these students was one of the most enjoyable and rewarding experiences I have had in a long time. I shall not mention any names for fear of omitting someone, but if you are one of the students who helped with the prom I want you to know that I appreciate your work and cooperation.

The conduct at the prom was great, and everyone seemed to have a good time. But I think that everyone who worked to put it together (and to take it apart Saturday morning) enjoyed it the most.

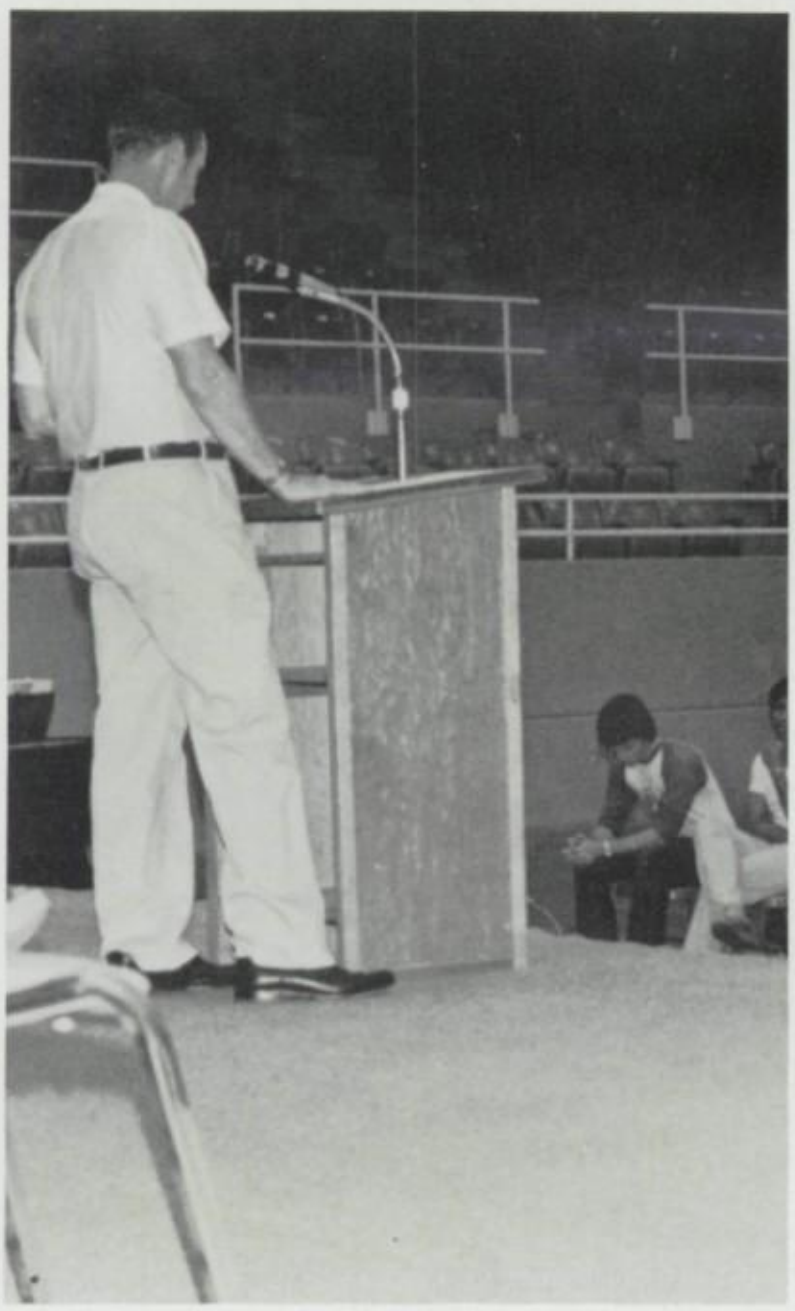
Seniors enjoy steak supper

Seniors enjoyed their steak supper May 18, at the Towle Park Barn which was sponsored by the parents.

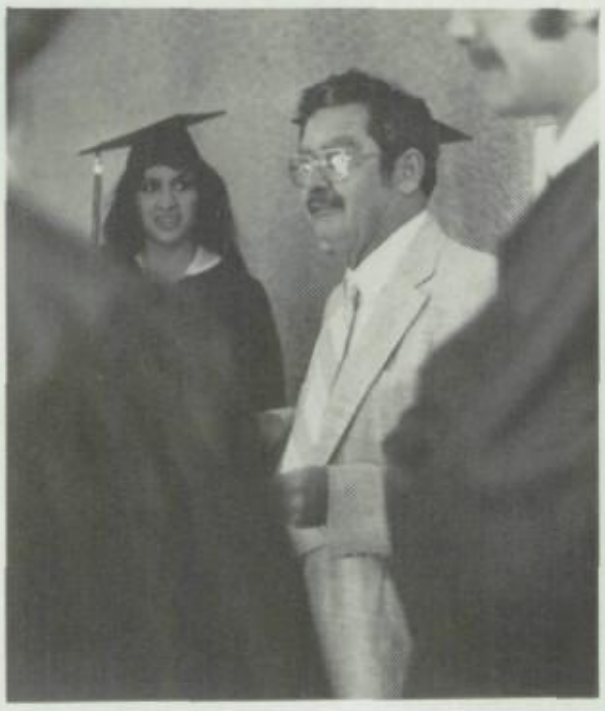
President Roger Mize, of Snyder National Bank and President Martin Brooks, of West Texas State Bank, donated the steaks. Betty Richardson, senior parent, coordinated the homemade ice cream stand. Max Humble barbecued the meat and Sue Humble was in charge of the donations. "Senior parents did everything imaginable. It was a good turnout," said Mrs. Humble. They served 268 seniors and their parents.

Gloria Shaw was chairman for the event and Sammy Scott was the co-ordinator.

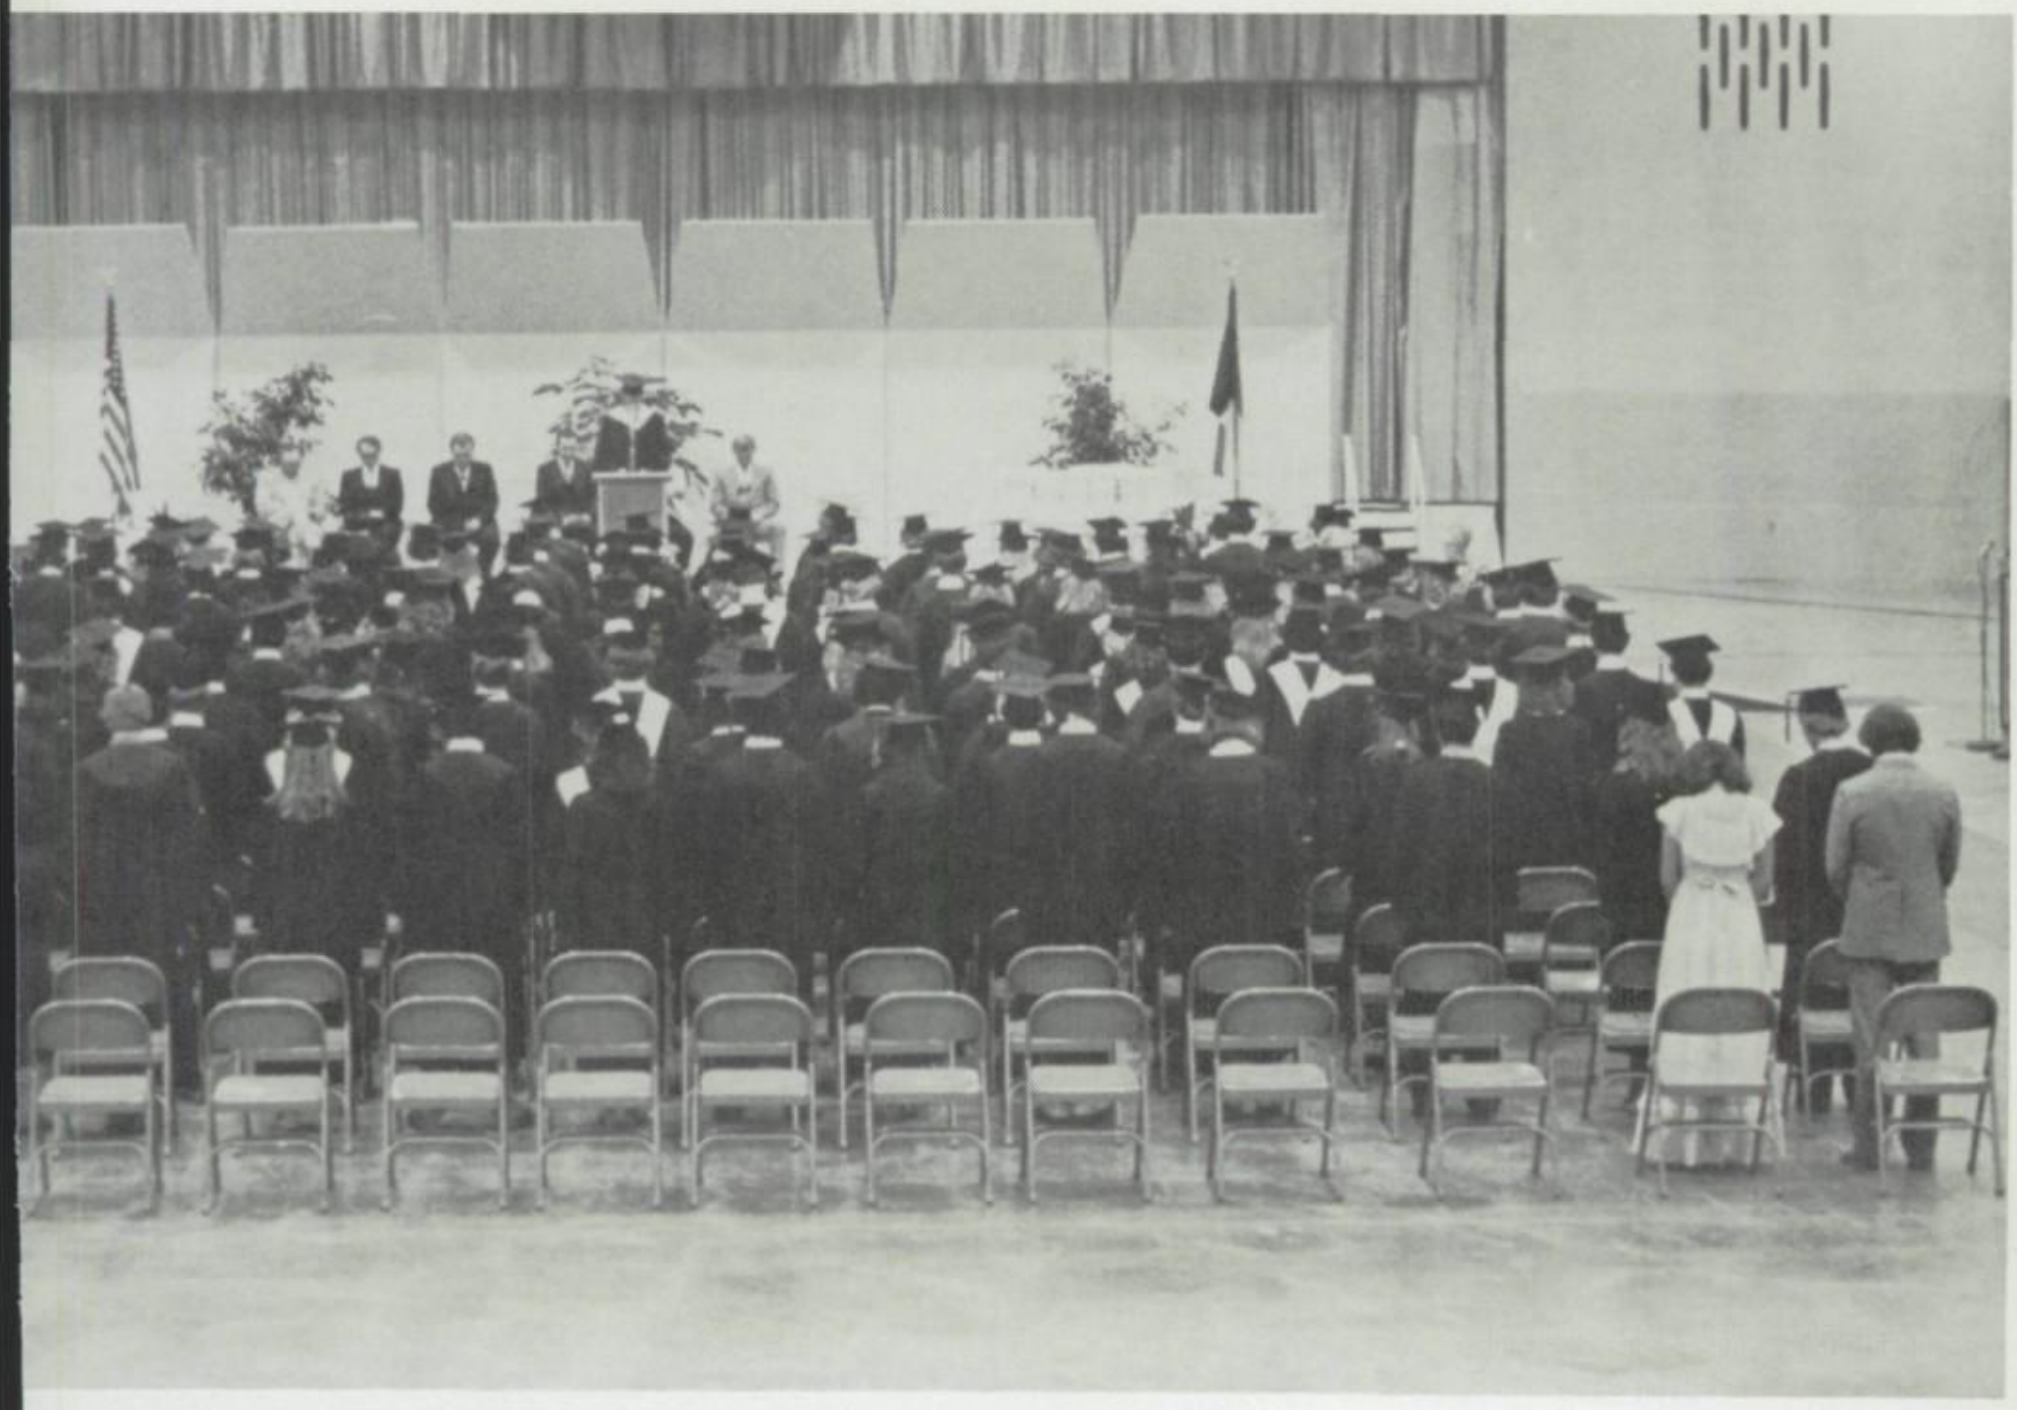
Randy Burrus, Mark Shaw, Nicci Fox, Quent Gilbert and Trevlyn Pitner.



Seniors practice for graduation at the Scurry County Coliseum. Practice was held Thursday May 20 at 10:00 am. Graduation was the following evening at 8:00 pm. Mr. Ray Courtney speaks to the seniors who made it to practice. Mr. John Short talks to Mrs. Vickie Beard from Western Texas College.



Celisa Shipp fixes her hat before the ceremony starts. Katrina Humble and Tammy Merritt have a discussion before they line up. Judie and Julie Hall get ready for the ceremony to start. Anita Fuentez looks on as Mr. Bill Hood checks on the pronounciation of some senior names. Mr. David H. Robertson speaks at the graduation ceremony.



'82 Seniors start tradition

Senior Class President John Wilson announced during graduation ceremonies that his class would like to begin a tradition of giving a gift to Snyder High School.

The class of '82 voted to leave money to the drama department for use of renovating the foyer of the auditorium. The class saved $200 for its ten year reunion.

After graduation, seniors carried on an all-night tradition of dancing, seeing a movie and eating an early bird breakfast together at a local church cafeteria.

Powder Puff kicks off . . . .

Powder Puff started off with the pep rally. Leading the cheer in the pep rally for the Dirty Damsels were Bryan Limmer, head, Clif Payne, Shane Nutt, Ronnie Rosas, Randy Burrus, John Wilson, and Gary Don Edminston. Cheering for the ruckous Raisers were Robert Lovelace, head, Jim Paul Williams, Gordon Gonzalas, Quient Gilbert, Loyd Sands, Brad Robertson, and Trey Harlin.

Robert shows his spirit. The Ruckus Raisers and the Dirty Damsel's cheerleaders build a pyramid during halftime. The Dirty Damsels Cheerleaders lead the fans in Two Bits. Ruckus Raiser's cheerleaders talk over their next cheer.

In Powder Puff volleyball action, the Bushmasters defeated the Nasty Netters.

Football action, the Ruckus Raisers defeated the Dirty Damsels 14-0. Dirty Damsels cheer their team on during the pep rally. Ruckus Raisers stand up for Two Bits. Patti Clark passes the ball for yardage while Whitney Robinson and Kelly Dryden penetrate and Tina Burleson and LaDonna Halford look on. Sherri Rich bombs the ball to Kelly, and Lana Burns rushes. Keith Wallace and Brian Limmer attempt to block Trey Harlin's spike while Brad Robertson, Gary Don, and John Wilson cover.

April Haley and Mickey Broach

The week of March 23-27, the Snyder High School Student Council sponsored Spring Fever Week. Tuesday was Hat, T-shirt, and Tennis shoe day, Wednesday was Preppy Day, Thursday was Bandanna Day, and Friday was Kiddie Day.

Many people, young, middle-aged, and the older ones sometimes wish to be young again.

Lori Sealy and La Rhonda Koonce

Students reincarnations of kids

During Kiddie Day, a boy and girl winner were chosen, perhaps that is why it was the most successful day.

April Haley and Mickey Broach were the overall winners for Kiddie Day. They received a gift certificate each to go to The Shack to eat. Both of the winners were allowed enough money to take a date with them, if they chose.

How many times we wondered what our lives were going to be like on the flipside.
So we gave it a try.
Though some of us didn't like
What we found there,
We felt the pressure to stay.
It took a fight, but
We made it back to ourside,
Having learned alot on the flipside.
